STRIKE HALTS SHIPS AT U.S. PACIFIC PORTS

Mollison With New Atlantic Mark Seeks Capetown Record

Veteran British Flier, Who Landed at Croydon, Eng., From New York, Shattering All Eastward Atlantic Speed Marks, Rests For Day Or Two Before Heading For Africa

Newfoundland To England 13½ Hours

Associated Press
Croydon, Eng., Oct. 30. Shattering all speed records for an eastward crossing of the Atlantic, Capt. James A. Mollison landed here today at 9.57 a.m. (1.57 a.m. P.S.T.), only thirteen hours and eighteen minutes after hopping off from Newfoundland.

Roaring across the stormy Atlantic in his Bellanca monoplane, the lone pilot averaged approximately 160 miles an hour to reach his goal.

FIRST SUCCESS OF SORT

It was the first time a flight with London as the eastern goal had been successfully completed without a forced landing en route.

Mollison, who by today's flight became the first man to fly a plane across the North Atlantic three times, was not even satisfied with that. "Possibly within a day," he said, he will take off on a record attempt to the tip of South Africa.

LESS THAN TWENTY HOURS

Counting the six hours and forty-one minutes he took to reach Harbor Grace, Nfld., from New York, he made the entire flight in nineteen hours and fifty-nine minutes.

Only a dozen spectators were on hand at the Croydon airfield to cheer the veteran flier's brilliant success, made in the face of forbidding weather conditions.

Mollison appeared exhausted when lifted from his plane. His first remark was:

"I am so tired—I am going to have a large Scotch and soda."

But at this time the British licensing laws beat him. The flier was reminded that under the old war-time restrictions of the "Dora" (Defence of the Realm Act) pubs and bars would not open until 11 a.m. He had to content himself with a glass of mild ginger beer.

Mollison said he had covered the 2,100 miles in 19 hours and 12 minutes faster than his own advance estimate.

North Alberta Has Snowfall

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Oct. 30.—Wet snow was falling heavily across northern Alberta today. The total fall in Edmonton by 9 a.m. was one inch and the heavy flakes were still coming down an hour and a half later. Temperatures were getting lower.

Of twenty points in the near north, nineteen reported snow ranging from one to six inches.

New Madrid Troops In Heavy Fighting

Spanish Loyalists, Revitalized By Gains and Supported By Planes and Tanks, Seek to Drive Insurgents Back to Toledo

Associated Press
Torrejon de la Calzada, Spain, Oct. 30.—Spanish Loyalists and Fascists clashed in heavy fighting today as government troops pressed forward in an effort to drive insurgents back "at least to Toledo."

Socialist commanders sent new columns of infantrymen into the battle, supported by artillery, aviation and tanks. Fascists countered with heavy bombardment of government positions in Torrejon de la Calzada.

As the engagement carried through its second day, government tanks were reported to have forced insurgent squads to retreat from positions along the Madrid-Aranjuez highway.

Another assault was made near Cueta de la Reina, four miles north

Local Rules For Armistice Day

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Officials said today no compulsion could be exercised by government authorities to force closing of business houses on Armistice Day, despite the fact the day has been declared a public holiday.

Decision regarding observance of the holiday is left to local authorities.

Plane Argument In France Is Hot

Failure of All Machines in Paris-Indo-China Contest Stirs Debate

Associated Press
Paris, Oct. 30.—Collapse of the vaunted round-trip air race to Saigon, French Indo-China, stirred a tempest today in French aviation.

Leon Challe, last of three entrants, was forced to abandon the race yesterday after encountering engine trouble at Basra, India.

Some newspapers criticized Challe, Michel Detroyat, and the team of Maurice Arnoux and Andre Japy, all noted fliers, for failing to complete the course regularly covered by commercial pilots.

Others blamed Pierre Cot, minister of aviation, for "proving" such a hazardous race without sufficient preparation.

Challe, last survivor in the 13,700-mile race, had made two starts. He returned to Paris to repair a damaged motor after reaching Italy on his first attempt.

By the time he had taken off again both the other contestants had been forced out.

A prize of about $50,000 had been offered for the first pilot to make the round trip.

Children Die In Madrid Bombing

Associated Press
Madrid, Oct. 30.—At least eighteen children were killed in daylight insurgent air raids on Madrid today.

Including the children, thirty-three persons in all were killed and close to 100 wounded.

Three Fascist bombing planes flew over the capital at 4:30 p.m. and dropped six bombs in the south section of the city.

Most of the injured were women waiting in milk queues when a hail of shrapnel mowed them down.

Eleven children playing in the sunlit Plaza de Progreso were among the most gravely wounded.

A woman and her child were killed in bed during their siesta.

of the strategic communications centre of Aranjuez, where Fascists had cut rail connections between the capital and the east coast.

Other attacks were launched on Algodor and Castilleja, minor railroad junctions in the same vicinity.

Y-SHAPED LINE

Revitalized by the capture yesterday of three towns almost on the outskirts of the capital, the Socialist army battled today in the hollow of the Fascists' Y-shaped line in an effort to force it back and break through it.

Torrejon de Velasco, fifteen miles south of Madrid on the arterial highway to Toledo, was the next objective.

Airplanes, tanks and artillery supported the troops as officers rallied their men with shouts to "save Madrid and drive the Fascists hitherback to Portugal."

The counter-attack was launched yesterday simultaneously with a proclamation in Madrid by Premier Francisco Franco.

TWO DIE IN FIRE AT LUMBER CAMP

Canadian Press
Kapuskaing, Ont., Oct. 30.—Two loggers were burned to death and six others were injured, one seriously, in a fire which destroyed an isolated lumber camp at Redpine Lake, thirty-eight miles south of here, last midnight.

Henry Turunen, forty-two, of Hearst, Ont., and Louis Nienvuori, sixty, of Blair Athol, N.B., died in the flames which imperiled the lives of 125 loggers in the camp. Stur Krajnak, thirty-six, was seriously burned.

LONDON OFFICE COSTS ARE CUT

B.C. House Expense to Province Now Negligible

British Columbia house in London is now being operated at little or no cost to the provincial treasury, according to details in the public accounts tabled in the B.C. Legislature.

The net cost of maintaining the structure, exclusive of provision for retiring the capital expenditure, was $461.16 in the last fiscal year. In the previous year there was a net profit of $5,737.

The balance is made up by rents paid for office suites in the building. According to last year's statements the running expenses were $72,124 and rents totaled $71,563, leaving the small balance to be met by the province.

Expenses of the office to the treasury at one time ran as high as $25,466 over and above rental collections.

Principle saving in the last two years has been in the salary of the Agent-General. When the present government took office, the then Agent-General resigned and the post has not been filled. W. S. McAdam, secretary, has since been acting Agent-General.

CAMPAIGN INQUIRY

Washington, Oct. 30 (Associated Press).—An inquiry would be launched immediately into attempts to "infringe upon the civil and political rights of the working man through 'pay roll pressure,'" Senator LaFollette, Progressive, Wisconsin, announced today.

Harry H. Graham, Playwright, Dies

Associated Press
London, Oct. 30.—Harry Graham, sixty-one, newspaperman, dramatic author and song writer, died at his London home today. The son of Sir Henry J. I. Graham and Lady Edith Graham, and a former officer in the Coldstream Guards, Graham began his playwrighting career with "State Secrets" in 1914.

He also wrote a number of books of humorous verse.

He served in the Boer War and also overseas in the Great War, 1917-18. In 1896 he was aide de camp to the Earl of Minto, Governor-General of Canada.

China Protests To Japan Army

Associated Press
Nanking, Oct. 30.—The Chinese Foreign Office protested formally today to the Japanese government against Japanese military manoeuvres in the Tientsin and Peking areas.

The Chinese charged the military activities were of such magnitude as to violate international law and Chinese sovereignty.

Waterborne Commerce Stops As 37,000 Ship and Dock Workers Quit Their Posts

B.C. Ports May Gain By Strike

U.S. Pacific Walkout Expected to Divert Traffic to This Area

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—The maritime strike which came into effect at midnight last night in United States Pacific Coast ports may result in traffic both from and to those ports being diverted to British Columbia ports, in the opinion of a prominent Vancouver shipping man.

He said no interruption of traffic to British Columbia ports was anticipated and shipping men expected considerable traffic for United States territory would be handled here.

NO EFFECTS HERE

"So far as we see at present Vancouver will not be affected as we have a contract with the Shipping Federation of British Columbia and are purely a Canadian body with a Canadian charter," H. Burgess, secretary of the Vancouver Longshoremen's Association, said. This union handles all deep-sea shipping from Vancouver.

Officials of the International Longshoremen's Association here also said the strike would have little immediate effect on British Columbia ports.

The I.L.A. handles all coastwise shipping here and will be affected only so far as traffic between Vancouver and United States coast ports are concerned. They handle no deep-sea cargoes.

AT SEATTLE WHARVES

Seattle, Oct. 30.—Two ships were posted to arrive here tonight to join the ten active carriers which were tied up today when the coastwide maritime strike stalled cargo winches, closed terminals and put approximately 3,000 persons employed in shipping and allied industries out of work.

BONES RECALL OLD MYSTERY

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Part of a human skull and other bones have been found near Britannia Beach by A. Johnson, an employee of the Britannia Mining and Smelting Co. It was learned here today.

The bones were found at the head waters of Seymour Creek, where sixty-year-old Nurse Mary Warburton disappeared five years ago while hiking from Squamish to Indian River.

A search was carried on by British Columbia police for a month after her disappearance, but was halted by heavy snow.

The portion of skull found by Johnson was taken to Dr. Gordon James at Britannia. He said the bone was badly decomposed and it would be impossible to identify it.

BODIES IN RIVER

Ennes and his brothers resisted arrest and in the ensuing fight the two constables were killed. Their bodies were thrown in the Nicola River.

The first trial was held at Vernon before Mr. Justice D. Murphy, and the three were found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. On appeal to the British Columbia Court of appeal they won a new trial, which took

Premier King Ends Mission In Britain

Prime Minister Will Sail For Canada Tomorrow; Trade Treaty Revision Talks Carried Forward

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Oct. 30.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King and Dr. O. D. Skelton, Canadian under-secretary of state for external affairs, will leave for Canada tomorrow on the liner Empress of Britain.

This morning, Mr. King called on the Duke and Duchess of York. This afternoon the Prime Minister had a further talk with Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, Dominion Secretary. The primary purpose of the talks with British ministers, which were thus concluded, was an endeavor to reach common ground for an Anglo-Canadian trade pact replacing the Ottawa agreement. If six months' notice of denunciation is given, the existing agreement will expire next August.

TO BE SIGNED NEXT YEAR

The new agreement, it is expected, will be formally concluded at the Imperial Conference in 1937. But the plan is to get preliminaries out of the way ahead of time, leaving little but the formal conclusion for the actual conference. This plan it is hoped to make effective. The conversations, however, it is authoritatively learned, remain in a preliminary stage with no definitive agreement.

With him were his wife, Mrs. Ada Bartlett Taft, and his three daughters, Mrs. Paul H. Douglas of Chicago, Mrs. Raymond Smith of Greensboro, N.C., and Mrs. Edgar Crane of Crofton-on-Hudson, N.Y.

Sports Arenas As Works Advocated

Byron Johnson, Victoria Member, Submits Proposal for Encouragement of Amateur Athletics and Construction of Playing Centres

A plan for the construction of sports arenas in British Columbia centres as part of federal government public works was placed before the B.C. Legislature this afternoon by Byron "Boss" Johnson, Liberal, Victoria.

Mr. Johnson said the project would have a two-fold objective, first to create necessary works and provide employment, and second to foster amateur sport.

"He indicated he had already taken it up with the provincial government, which would submit the plan to Ottawa for consideration in connection with public undertakings."

As a start he suggested arenas in Victoria, Nanaimo, North Vancouver and Burnaby with seating capacities of from 5,000 to 4,000 and facilities for playing the popular indoor games.

Cost of the four would not exceed $350,000, he estimated.

This could be wholly financed by Ottawa, such as is now done with drill halls, could be handled under a joint arrangement by the two governments.

When completed, the arenas would be turned over to independent local commissions for administration. Playing floors would be rented out to leagues and teams for game purposes, and out of the receipts the commission would take a certain percentage for a sports promotion fund.

The fund would be used solely for the encouragement and development of amateur athletics in the districts concerned, for the purchase of equipment and other incidental expenditure.

"There are literally thousands of boys and girls in these towns anxious and willing to take part in sports, but lack of equipment and opportunity keep them back. The government, I feel, has just as great a duty to encourage them as it has the desire to create employment by constructive public undertakings," Mr. Johnson said.

Nick Luckavitch, faller of Camp Seven, Alberni Pacific Lumber Company, died last night in the Alberni Hospital as a result of injuries sustained in an accident yesterday. He was struck by a falling snag, a report to provincial police here said. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

U.S. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins Intercedes in Effort to Bring Shipowners and Men's Spokesmen Together as Tie-up all Along Coast From Seattle to Southern California Starts; Warehousemen in San Francisco Quit; Terms of Work and Wages Are Issues; Foreign Ships May Sail

Associated Press

San Francisco, Oct. 30.—A complete tieup of shipping paralyzed waterborne commerce along the United States Pacific Coast today, with the walkout of 37,000 maritime workers, and United States Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins immediately interceded in an attempt to bring shipowners and workers together for negotiations.

Picket lines along the piers began to increase, but extra squads of police went on duty to prevent repetition of the bloody clashes which occurred in a similar strike in 1934, resulting in seven deaths.

Miss Perkins telephoned from Buffalo, N.Y., several times, possibly to Assistant Secretary of Labor Edward F. McGrady, and declared she was convinced the strike involved nothing that cannot be arranged by adjustment and negotiations.

The general strike threatened to spread to east coast and Gulf of Mexico ports, although a New York "sitdown" strike failed to materialize and New Orleans longshoremen still were handling cargoes.

*Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, at New York, declined to commit himself on the question of calling a strike in his organization. He previously had announced he had no alternative than to support west coast members.

WAREHOUSEMEN QUIT
The strike was further complicated here when 1,000 members of the warehousemen's unions also walked out. All warehouses were affected, with the exception of wholesale grocery plants, which had until 5 p.m. to reach an agreement on proposed contracts.

"The workers feel they must take economic action to maintain their union rights and obtain demands from employers that they feel they are 'justly' due them," said Warren G. Denton, president of the union. The warehousemen seek union recognition, wage increases and a forty-hour week.

Assistant Secretary McGrady was reported to be making efforts to arrange meetings between the seven maritime unions and employers.

FIRE PROTECTION
The coast committee for the shipowners went into executive session to arrange for fire and other protection for the ships tied up by the strike.

The strike halted movements of 119 vessels, including twenty-seven foreign ships, in Pacific Coast ports of the United States. It was believed the foreign crafts would be permitted to sail without taking on more cargo.

NO NEW CREWS
Shipowners did not plan to employ non-union workmen to handle cargo and sail the ships. Observers thought this probably would prevent bloody strife along the waterfronts.

Maritime workers struck after prolonged negotiations had failed to bring about settlement of their fundamental demands for control of hiring halls, wage increases and shortened hours.

The employers insisted on mutual control of the halls and balked at wage aid hour demands, although they contended they had granted some concessions.

BUREAU PLAN
Joseph B. Weaver, director of the bureau of marine inspection and navigation at Washington, D.C., today proposed creation of a federal system of bureaus for employing of all seagoing personnel.

"This would be operated on a thoroughly impartial basis, thus removing present charges of discrimination by either employers or unions," Weaver declared.

Miss Perkins established her headquarters in the offices of the state department of labor at Buffalo, and (Turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

B.C. Growers Take Honors For Apples

At Liverpool Imperial Fruit Show All Awards Go to This Province and Nova Scotia; Three-way Tie For Championship

Canadian Press

Liverpool, Oct. 30.—British Columbia and Nova Scotia captured all the Canadian honors for apples at the Imperial Fruit Show, which opened at Liverpool today.

In the Canadian championship division, the Agent-General's Cup went to Associate Growers of British Columbia, Vernon. The award for best exhibits in boxes and hampers resulted in a three-way tie for first place. McLean and Fitzpatrick of Kelowna, B.C., Crown Fruit Company Limited, Kelowna, and British Columbia Fruit Shippers of Vernon shared the honors.

For the best exhibit in barrels and half barrels, the first prize went to the Border Fruit Company of Canby, N.S. United Fruit companies of Nova Scotia, Kentville, was second.

ment in sight probably for some months.

FOODSTUFFS DISCUSSED

The United Kingdom ministers want to limit the present free import of Canadian foodstuffs. The Ottawa agreement placed a quota on Canadian bacon and hams. But the quota is so high it has not served to curtail Canadian exports. On Canadian eggs, poultry, butter, cheese and other milk products the Ottawa agreement guaranteed free entry for three years from August, 1932.

After three years the British Government reserved the right, "if they consider it necessary in the interests of the British producers to do so," either to impose preferential tariffs on these foodstuffs or subject them to quota limitations.

PROTECTION WANTED

The British ministers, while not presenting a cut and dried quota plan, have in the conversations, it is learned, pressed the case against continued free entry of Canadian foodstuffs. Their plea is protection for the home producers.

Linked with the British attitude on foodstuffs is the British desire for reform of emigration.

place before Chief Justice Aulay Morrison and resulted in another conviction. A new appeal to the British Columbia Court of Appeal failed and the brothers then appealed to the Supreme Court of Canada.

In dismissing the appeals today the court indicated written reasons for judgment would be handed down later. No reasons were given today.

NO RULING ON DUNBAR

The Supreme Court did not give judgment on the appeal of Earl Dunbar, who was convicted with Russell for the same murder in Vancouver. The man killed was William Hobbs, shot by a gang which held up the bank. Russell was alleged to have taken part in the actual holdup and to have been one of the party which entered the bank. Dunbar was said to have remained outside as the driver of the car in which the bandits made their escape.

Dunbar's ground for appeal related to his claim that he was an unwilling party to the affair and was forced into it by threats from the others, two of whom took their own lives rather than submit to arrest. Russell's defence was his own testimony that he was not present at the holdup.

Arguments on the appeals were heard two weeks ago with Hon. Gordon Sloan, Attorney-General of British Columbia, appearing for the crown.

PLEA TO MINISTER

Vancouver, Oct. 30 (Canadian Press).—Next Friday, a week from today, is the date set for the hanging of the four men whose appeals against murder convictions were dismissed by the Supreme Court of Canada today.

Ensign Richardson and Alex George have twice been reprieved pending the results of appeals, the last time from May 8. Both Charles Russell, whose appeal also failed, and Earl Dunbar, on whose appeal no judgment was given, are under sentence to be hanged Friday, November 6.

T. F. Hurley, counsel for Russell, announced today he would apply tomorrow to Chief Justice Aulay Morrison of the British Columbia Supreme Court for a reprieve, pending an appeal to the Minister of Justice for a new trial.

With the decisions on the B.C. criminal cases handed down in Ottawa today, Attorney-General Gordon Sloan has an almost perfect record in cases he has taken on behalf of the province to the Supreme Court of Canada this year. Out of six cases, the ruling has been for the crown in five.

About 125,000 dead accounts in American savings banks are believed to be secret deposits of miners and gangsters.

Mollison With New Atlantic Mark Seeks Capetown Record

FORMER SPEED MARK

On September 3 last Harry Richmond and Dick Merrill took 10 hours and 16 minutes to fly their ship, "Lady Peace," from Harbor Grace to the Irish coast.

Their total flying time from New York to Capetown—not counting time lost when they made a forced landing in a meadow in Wales—was estimated as 18 hours and 36 minutes by the American National Aeronautical Association for the 3,000-mile hop.

TAKE-OFF IN AFTERNOON

Mollison took off from Harbor Grace at 4:40 p.m. A.S.T. (12:40 p.m. P.S.T.) yesterday on his fourth flight across the Atlantic.

He reached the coast of Ireland in the amazing time of 9 hours and 15 minutes, then apparently lost his bearings for a while. He lost more precious seconds by circling the Crocydon airport three times, before landing his blue and orange monoplane glittering in the sunlight.

MESSAGE FROM WIFE

Although his wife, Mrs. Amy Johnson Mollison, co-partner in the famous team of "flying Mollisons" was not at the field to greet him, she was among the first to send congratulations.

"I am delighted over your successful safe crossing," she messaged. "The time was extremely good." Mrs. Mollison, who ten days ago announced her estrangement from her flying husband, was reported receiving the message in the country from the effects of her recent plane crash-up in which her nose was broken.

"I want at least one night's rest before going on to the Cape," Capt. Mollison said. "I am certainly glad to be here," he added, and gratefully caressed a rabbit's foot given him by a girl at Harbor Grace.

DID NOT SEE IRELAND

"I did not see Ireland at all, and first got my bearings over Wales. I wasted an hour circling in mid-ocean trying to get rid of ice on the wings. The weather was bitterly cold, and I flew through a blinding snowstorm on the first part of the hop."

PRaised BY ACTRESS

The actress Dorothy Ward, for whom Mollison's plane was named, said: "I am terribly happy. It makes me feel that I in a small way have helped his success. Jim is a very dear friend of mine. I am proud and thrilled to know he has won through."

THIRTY-SECOND

The plane, named "Dorothy" in honor of the girl Mollison styled "a very dear friend," was the thirty-second plane to cross the North Atlantic since the British flier Sir John Alcock and Sir J. W. Brown flew from St. John's, Nfld., to Galway, Ireland, June 15, 1919. Alcock and Brown flew the distance in sixteen hours and twelve minutes.

Mollison, leaning heavily on the wing of his plane while he puffed a cigarette, said he had flown at a height of 10,000 feet most of the way and admitted he felt very nervous. "Just because of the weather and because people were so pessimistic."

He wore a grey suit under his brown flying top.

Capt. James A. Mollison, one of Great Britain's foremost distance fliers, came into world fame in 1931, when, in rapid succession, he set speed records for flights from Australia to England and from England to Capetown, South Africa.

His arrival today at the Capetown airport, outside London, completed his fourth successful trans-Atlantic flight.

Two of the others were accomplished, like today's, alone. Capt. Mollison flew from Ireland to Canada in August, 1932, and from England to Brazil in February, 1933.

In July, 1935, he crossed the North Atlantic east-to-west, again, crashing in Bridgeport, Conn., almost in sight of his goal, the Floyd Bennett Field, Brooklyn. Mrs. Mollison, the former Amy Johnson and a renowned flier in her own right, shared the controls with him.

Capt. Mollison's arrival at Capetown today completed the fourth successful trans-Atlantic flight over the northern route within the past two months—two in each direction.

Darryl Richman and Dick Merrill piloted the "Lady Peace" both ways. They were forced down at Llynncelyn, Wales, September 3, after crossing non-stop from the Floyd Bennett Field.

They returned September 18, taking off from the English coast and being forced down near Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, Capt. Mollison's take-off point for his trans-oceanic hop.

Other notable trans-Atlantic flights and their flying times were: Lindbergh, New York to Paris, May 20-21, 1927, 3,600 miles in 33 hours and 30 minutes.

Byrd, Noville, Acosta, and Balchen, from New York to Ver-sur-Mer, France, June 29 to July 1, 1931, 3,477 miles, in 43 hours and 30 minutes.

Herndon and Pangborn, New York to Wales, July 28-29, 1931, 3,200 miles in 32 hours.

Wiley Post, New York to Berlin, July 1, 1931, 3,900 miles in 25 hours and 48 minutes.

Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, Harbor Grace to Ireland, May 20-21, 1932, 2,026 miles in 14 hours and 56 minutes.

Rossi and Codor, New York to Syria, August 8, 1933, 5,540 miles, in 54 hours and 15 minutes.

Her own right, shared the controls with him.

B.C. Ports May Gain By Strike

E. A. Shook, president of the waterfront employees of Seattle, said: "Now that the breach has come there will be no attempt to operate ships until matters in the dispute have been adjusted. Ships will be berthed wherever the strike catches them. Watermen will be placed aboard. Proper authorities have been asked to protect the property."

"There will be no strikebreaking, or any attempt at it."

NEARING PORT
The Harbor Department posted the American-Hawaiian Line freighter Maru, American Mail liner President Grant, Alaska Steamship liners Victoria and Yukon, McCormick coastwise freighter Peter Helms, Border Line freighter Border King, Alaska Steamship Line freighter Depere, Willapa Steamship intercoastal freighter Willapa, American-Hawaiian intercoastal freighter Pennsylvania and Olson Line coastwise freighter San Pedro.

No estimates of the value of freight on Seattle wharves and in idle ship's holds was available, but the waterfront employees' Association reported Seattle normally moves 20,000 tons daily, costing $10,000 a day in longshore wages. There are 1,400 registered longshoremen in Seattle.

MAY AFFECT ALASKA
Unless the strike lifts by November 16, Alaska points are going to set their Thanksgiving tables without any turkey.

Three active Alaska ships were tied up here today, the Victoria, the Depere and the Yukon.

FERRIES UNAFFECTED
Puget Sound Navigation Company officials said today the maritime strike had no effect on Puget Sound ferry service and that the ferries were operating "as usual."

They said the strike applied only to coastwise shipping.

The ferries were not affected in the 1934 strike.

started telephoning to San Francisco.

"We are continuing our efforts to get the people back into negotiation," the labor secretary said.

President Roosevelt, White House officials said, also was keeping in close touch with the tense situation on the Pacific Coast.

CALL TO 37,000
Thirty-seven thousand ship and dock workers were ordered off their jobs last midnight when efforts to set up new working agreements between shipowners and seven federated unions had failed.

From Seattle to San Diego men began dropping work and picketing the wharves. It was said their number would be steadily swelled as ships returned to the coast from the Orient, Alaska and South America.

EXTRA POLICE POSTED
Recalling the eighty-three-day maritime strike of 1934, during which seven men were killed, police chiefs immediately ordered extra duty forces to the waterfront and private companies posted their own guards. Four hundred police were assigned to duty in both San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Value of trade affected is only part of the financial picture. Industries relying chiefly on water shipments to move their products or bring in raw materials, will be forced to close if the strike lasts. Chief among these are the sugar industries of California and the lumber industry of the Pacific Northwest.

MANY TELEGRAMS
"It will be a national strike," predicted Randolph Meriwether, secretary of the Maritime Engineers' Beneficial Association. "We have received hundreds of telegrams from ports all over America, pleading support."

PICKETS AT SAN PEDRO
Union pickets and squads of police moved simultaneously onto the Los Angeles harbor waterfront at San Pedro, where crews of twenty-seven ships were called off. Police Chief James E. Davis cancelled all leaves and ordered twelve-hour shifts for the entire force.

"Law and order will prevail in Portland," Mayor Joseph K. Carlson of that city declared.

Officers were ordered on twelve-hour duty at Honolulu.

The blockade abruptly halted the flow of cargo, estimated at 300,000 tons daily for all west coast ports. Shippers said the probable loss in dollars would run into tens of thousands daily.

FERRIES OPERATE
The San Francisco ferries, which carry many people across the bay daily, are not involved in the strike.

Associated Press

New York, Oct. 30.—A strike of east coast and Gulf of Mexico maritime workers in support of the Pacific coast strike appeared possible today, but what its scope would be in the event it was called was problematical.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, declined to commit himself on the question of calling a strike in his organization.

He had announced he had no alternative but to support the demands of the association's western members, but qualified that with the statement the I.L.A. would "live up to its agreements."

Less than a week ago the association signed agreements with eastern seaboard shippers.

From other I.L.A. officials came an indication that if the organization did become involved in a strike, incident to the Pacific coast trouble, an attempt would be made to confine it to coastal and intercoastal shipping workers.

FEWER TROOPS IN PALESTINE

Britain Calling Home Units; Deaths During Weeks of Native Rioting 314

Associated Press
London, Oct. 30.—The twenty-five weeks of disorders during the Arab general strike in Palestine took a total of 314 lives, Colonial Secretary William Ormsby-Gore reported to the House of Commons yesterday.

Saying "the situation has improved rapidly" since the Arab strike was called off October 12, Mr. Ormsby-Gore placed the casualties as follows: Moslems, 955, including 187 deaths; Jews, 385, with 80 deaths; Christians, 65, including 10 deaths; British army and air force, 125, with 21 deaths. The remainder of the casualties, the secretary said, were divided between Palestine police and Trans-Jordan frontier forces.

Great Britain, he declared, already had taken steps to reduce the number of troops in Palestine, rushed there to reinforce garrisons during the disorders.

A royal commission will leave next week to investigate conditions there.

Radio Broadcast From Clear Sky

Four Road Workers and Woman in Alberta Report Mysterious Happening

Canadian Press
Dodge, Alta., Oct. 30.—Mysterious music that "came out of a clear sky" yesterday baffled four road workers near this village, about forty miles southeast of Edmonton. They were working on a radio programme from Edmonton, but there were no receiving sets "for five miles around" where they were working.

Started by the music, A. J. Thorley, R. Gjerde, H. Verette and M. Flotree thought there might be an automobile in the vicinity, but search revealed nothing.

They proceeded to a farmhouse more than a mile distant, where they found Mrs. G. Sanstrom, who claimed she also had heard the music, but had feared to mention it, thinking people might wonder about her sanity.

Predicts Arrest Of Tim Buck

Toronto Globe Says R.C. M.P. Watching For His Return From Europe

Canadian Press
Toronto, Oct. 30.—Tim Buck, Canadian Communist leader, will be arrested for alleged breach of parole if he returns to Canada from a European tour, the Toronto Globe said today.

"Buck," the paper said, "is reported to have left Toronto last July for Geneva and when last heard of was in Spain. The Communist leader was paroled from the Kingston Penitentiary November 24, 1934, and was to report to the authorities once a month until the spring of 1937.

"He was convicted under Section 98 of the Criminal Code and sentenced to five years in the Kingston Penitentiary. Following the penitentiary riots he was given an additional nine months' term for participating in the Kingston riots in which Buck charged guards had fired at him in his cell.

"Inquiries in Toronto and at Ottawa failed to show any record of Buck having had his parole reporting cancelled and therefore he was not expected to leave the country until his ticket-of-leave expired. Royal Canadian Mounted Police are handling the case, since the parole board is a federal matter."

VANCOUVER WILL AID TAXPAYERS

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—The city council, at a special session yesterday, threw out a financial lifeline to distressed taxpayers by approving both the scheme for installment redemption of this year's tax sale properties and the ten-year tax consolidation plan.

All unpaid taxes still on city rolls at the end of this year will be included in the consolidation plan, with the exception of properties sold at this year's tax sale. If the latter are redeemed before the end of the year, the owners will be free to participate in consolidating privileges.

GRAIN RATES APPEAL SOON

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 30.—British Columbia's appeal for lower freight rates on feed grains shipped by rail from prairie points to the Pacific province for domestic use will come before the cabinet next week, it was disclosed yesterday.

The appeal, rejected several years ago by the Board of Railway Commissioners, will be argued on behalf of the British Columbia government by Tom Reid, New Westminster Liberal House of Commons member. Mr. Reid presented the province's case before the Board of Railway Commissioners.

The claim, dating back a considerable period, is that freight rates on feed grains shipped westward across the Rockies for use in British Columbia are out of line with the lower rates allowed by the railways on grains being shipped to Pacific ports for export.

Mr. Reid arrived here today.

WILL APPEAL CONVICTION

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—(Canadian Press)—Paddy Canning, forty-one-year-old sports promoter and war veteran, was convicted in the Assize Court here yesterday on a charge of conspiracy to distribute morphine, and was remanded to the end of the present session for sentence. A jury of six men and six women deliberated half an hour. W. J. Murdoch, Canning's counsel, said the conviction would be appealed.

The strike call demonstrated increased feeling between the rival organizations, the result of slayings of members of each.

Next Tuesday

NEXT TUESDAY THE PEOPLE OF the United States will go to the polls and let it be known whether they want to be governed for another four years by President Roosevelt or Governor Landon. The latter is the Republican nominee who has conducted a campaign which does not look as if he has conformed to the ethics of even good politics—if politics ever can be considered good—for he has accused the chief executive of practically everything but murder.

As The Winnipeg Free Press quite properly says: "Public interest in this contest is not, if the leaders may be taken at their word, a sham battle between two parties with roughly identical aims. That familiar remark, 'there is nothing to choose between the old parties,' has not been heard since the campaign began. It may be true, for once, that this election is a crisis in American history and will be decisive either in pushing the United States toward a Socialist economy or restoring free capitalism. If one is to believe Mr. Landon and his friends, the 'American system' is at stake. They mean the system under which a career like Henry Ford's is possible and the government interferes with private enterprise, either by regulation or heavy taxation, as little as possible."

"Mr. Roosevelt, according to his critics, has come close to wrecking this system already. He has, they say, debauched the public by extravagant spending on relief projects of doubtful value, and by handouts on a colossal scale. This sort of paternalism, the Republicans argue, is destroying self-reliance and causing millions of citizens to look to the government for a living. Mr. Roosevelt, it is also said against him, has paved the way for a personal dictatorship by getting laws passed concentrating new and extraordinary powers in his hands. To mention these powers as listed by Mr. Landon in a speech at Detroit, Mr. Roosevelt in his own discretion may spend sums aggregating $13,000,000,000, vary the value of the dollar and issue billions in greenbacks. Mr. Landon promises to repeal these powers. He sees them as steps toward an economic dictatorship under which all individual rights and liberties—including ultimately the protection of the courts—will be destroyed."

"Mr. Roosevelt's defence is to point to the improvement in the state of the country since he took office. He reminds the voters that when he became President in March, 1933, banks were crashing so rapidly that it was necessary to close all of them and declare a national moratorium, the unemployed were staging hunger marches all over the country, and the American public was so panicky that level-headed citizens were ready to believe red revolution was at hand. That is a true picture and Mr. Roosevelt is accurate in saying that he led the country out of the slough of despond. He admits his large spending and borrowing, but argues that the results were worth the price. He has added, he says, eight billions to the national debt, but twenty-two billions to the yearly national income. The number of Americans dependent on the government is as great now as in 1933, if not greater, but instead of living in idleness on inadequate rations they are contentedly working on relief projects. And the farmers, enriched by huge subsidies, are no longer complaining. These are the results, says Mr. Roosevelt, of the New Deal policies of easy money and governmental interference in trade and industry."

Mr. Roosevelt had the courage to try something in the hope that it would help his fellow men. He often has declared that what he did was not without its failures. But he had always in the back of his mind the welfare of his fellow citizens. Landon—and this of vital import to Canadians—makes no bones about the fact that if he shall be elected, he will abrogate treaties that mean a free flow of trade between nations. Yet, in his speech in New York last night, he was all out for greater international trade. Just what is his economic reasoning? He seems to us to be off the track.

Sincere Always

THE LEADER OF THE OFFICIAL Opposition in the Legislature, the Rev. Robert Connell, thinks the urgent need of British Columbia is a new political alliance. He is of the opinion that the capitalistic and party system of government must give place to a co-operative commonwealth of social services if society is to recover from its depression. The reverend gentleman is nothing if not sincere; but he labors under the unfortunate handicap of having so few supporters in the House to put "punch" into his new social gospel.

We are told that Mr. Connell is not in the mood to make specific reference to his recent split with the C.C.F. He said that old line parties must go and that all functions of the government must be vested in an alliance of social constructives, which would operate on a co-operative basis. He had won primorises on the opening day because a friend offered him a boutonniere that flower, he said. He agreed with Disraeli that political parties, which, from necessity of things, have ceased to have distinctive principles, and therefore are only factions. The Leader of the Official Opposition always has tried to interpret his obligation to society in an honest fashion. He has done it in recent months by separating himself from that element of politics in British Columbia which would "Telfordize" many thousands. If the Rev. Mr. Connell finds it possible to present to the Legislature a new order under which the wage-earner may get a better deal, he will have genuine support. But he is up against a time-honored problem—the immovable object and the irresistible force.

He Knows the Air

CAPTAIN JAMES MOLLISON LEFT Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, last night and glided to terra firma at Croydon thirteen hours and eighteen minutes afterwards. He had flown his machine more than 2,000 miles.

What is there to be said about it? There is no point now in calling up visions of Jules Verne. If Bleriot could turn over in his grave—Bleriot was the first man to fly the English Channel—he probably would not believe that anybody could leave the western hemisphere at nearly midnight and have dinner in London the next day.

After he dropped down from the skies at Croydon, Mollison demonstrated his human instincts. He said: "I'm so damned tired, I'm going to have a large Scotch and soda." But the fates were "agin" him. He was reminded that under the old war-time regulations—"DORA"—better known in legal parlance as the Defence of the Realm Act, did not allow the bars to open until 11 a.m. Mollison has done a good job again. His reputation as a flyer needs no special mention.

A Worthy Cause

TOMORROW'S TAG DAY FOR the John Howard Society ought to meet with a generous response. To put it into a few words the John Howard Society is an organization which looks after the people who have "missed their step" and have landed themselves in jail.

The John Howard Society takes hold of people after they come out of their enforced confinement. Many of them have come from homes in which there is no enlightenment, no inspiration for them to tread the straight and narrow path. So we may quote the statement of the John Howard Society in part: "It explains much of its objects:

"The general work of the society covers a wide range. It includes befriending the first offenders, ministering to incarcerated prisoners, aiding their dependents, and helping discharged and paroled men and women back to society and re-establishment. Much of the work is in the realm of personality adjustment. Men and women who, having been deprived of the advantages of a normal moral and spiritual training; lacking self-confidence through a lowering of self-respect; with little initiative as they face an environment where they no longer are a part of a prison routine, but have to think and act for themselves; such is a general picture of the material with which the society continuously works."

"Yet in spite of seemingly insuperable difficulties records show many amazing and magnificent recoveries, and real 'Jean Valjeans' are living in our midst with new inspiration, new hope and new vision as a result of the John Howard Society's labors. One feature of the work is in the family case work field, where every effort is made to preserve the family unit intact, while the husband and father is away, in order that full recovery may be affected as expeditiously as possible upon his release. Increasingly, much preventive work is being accomplished also. With so many young offenders receiving prison sentences during the present period of economic stress the great opportunity thus presented for arresting further criminal development in this area is not being overlooked."

No Longer Isolated

ANNOUNCEMENT THAT PNEU-matic-tired tractors, equipped with radios, are now available for farmers is just more evidence of the trend toward making the lot of our rural citizens a happier one.

Crop insurance programmes may be in the offing to secure for the farmer his livelihood. Chemists predict that factories will offer a profitable market for much farm produce in the future.

Rural electrification is going ahead in Canada, and it may not be long before electrical "hired men" will be milking cows, currying horses, prodding hens to greater egg production, and so on, throughout most of rural Canada.

It seems quite probable that, in the not very distant future, the old problem, "How are you going to keep 'em down on the farm?" may become one of "keeping 'em in the city."

Notes

People are often overcome by temptation because they are all out of breath from chasing it.

A partisan is often a person who thinks the other man has no principle if he does not become as rabid as he is.

As we learn in the news from Spain, a war between ideas is the bloodiest kind. The only way to kill an idea is to kill everybody who has it. And even then it may bob up somewhere else.

Life insurance statisticians report a drop of 4.7 per cent in automobile fatalities on this continent for the first eight months of 1936 over the corresponding months of 1935. The fact that this sizeable decline has occurred in the face of increases in motor vehicle traffic and in the consumption of gasoline is proof that the automobile accident toll can be cut and that the campaigns for safe driving are bearing fruit. Incidentally, the statisticians' figures show accidental deaths other than those due to automobiles, increased during the first eight months of 1936.

Column Three

Theatrical Season

From a New York Correspondent
THE NEW theatrical season is here with the clamor of Broadway First Nights, the chill stillness of Broadway Last Nights. The Rialto is glamorous with gaudy premieres, milling throngs, traffic din, celebrity-chasing. In brief, nightly pandemonium.

The theatres promise a rich harvest: the names of stars who share in the shows are legion. Of the two hundred shows announced, at least a hundred are peopled with players of importance or written by authors of reputation. Hollywood is being deserted by several of her satellites for Broadway, and many a leading lady is being imported from England, France, Australia, Russia and Italy.

But let us get down to particulars. Here, in part, is what the theatrical season of 1936-37 offers: Two distinguished "Hamlets," one with Leslie Howard, the other with the English matinee idol, John Gielgud. Katharine Hepburn in "Jane Eyre," under the Theatre Guild's management. Margaret Sullivan in "Stage Door," by Edna Ferber and George S. Kaufman. A musical spectacle that threatens to outsize "The Great Waltz" is "The White Horse Inn," for which the Centre Theatre in Radio City has been converted into a big, Tyrolean village.

At least fifteen musical shows, of both the "leg" and operetta varieties, are promised. Noel Coward is over with Gertrude Lawrence in his series of playlets he calls "Tonight at 8.30," which require a player three evenings to see in entirety. Katharine Cornell has a new play by America's foremost dramatist, Maxwell Anderson. Muriel Abbe, a star of the Italian stage, is the star of Gilbert Miller's offering, "Tovarich," that has been a great hit in London. Jimmy Durante and Ethel Merman turn up in the musical comedy, "Red Hot and Blue." George Abbott has his own modern version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and "Tillie's Nightmare" is poised in a George Kelly play called "Reflected Glory."

DRAMATIC COMEBACKS
Alfred Lunt and Lynne Fontanne have returned from their farm in Genesee Depot, Wis., to resume "Idiot's Delight," the Pulitzer Prize winning play by Robert Sherwood. Refreshed by a jaunt through Europe, Helen Hayes is again impersonating "Victoria Regina" from girlhood to old age in the play of that name.

And now the "Ziegfeld Follies" the Shuberts inherited has come to life at the Winter Garden. This is, more or less, the same "Follies" that was forced to shut down in the spring because of Fanny Brice's illness. Miss Brice is fully recovered and funnier than she has ever been, if that is possible.

New to the "Follies," however, is Bobby Clark, who has not been on the stage since the tragic suicide of his partner, Paul McCullough. With Miss Price, he harlequins in the comedy skits hilariously. As a matter of fact, the "Follies" has been refurbished with several new people. Gypsy Rose Lee, an erstwhile strip tease dancer, is now letting her flaming brunette hair down in the more dignified environment of the "Follies." Jane Pickens is singing the romantic ballads of the show, and Cass Daley has taken the place of Josephine Baker for the sepien numbers.

Meanwhile the hits of last season remain. Still popular are the dramas "Tobacco Road" and "Dead End"; the comedies, "Boy Meets Girl" and "Three Men on a Horse"; and the musical, "On Your Toes."

Victorian Parade

From a London Correspondent

LONDON.
ONE OF LONDON'S most famous theatres, the Alhambra, Leicester Square, is to be pulled down to make room for a cinema house.

The deal, I am told, involves over half a million pounds. The Alhambra was opened in 1854 as "The Panopticon of Science and Art," but although the opening ceremony was accompanied by prayer, scientific amusement proved unattractive to the taste of the age. The company went into liquidation.

In the sixties the place became a music hall. prize fights were seen on its stage, and later it was known as a home of comic opera and ballet. During the Franco-Prussian war, selections of national airs were played there, and fights between Frenchmen and Germans were almost a nightly occurrence.

It is recorded that one of London's first cinema shows was given there in 1896—and during the Great War, Mr. André Charlot, and later Sir Oswald Stoll, produced revues there. Crowds flocked to the theatre to see such companies as the "Bling Boys," with George Robey and Violet Loraine.

In recent years many rumors have surrounded the building. Several times its proposed demolition has been reported. Some years ago it was equipped with talking film apparatus, and then, in 1933, it was proposed to convert it into a "palace of amusement." For this purpose a $50,000 company was registered.

The Alhambra's prominence was the rendezvous of all the people whose names made history in Victorian and pre-war days, and it became famous throughout the world.

A number of picturesque characters are associated with the theatre. One was a man who always occupied a box. He would place an ivory-mounted thermometer before him, and if the temperature fell below a certain level he would call loudly for the manager and demand an explanation.

It was the scene of some of the most notorious "rags" of Victorian days. Once the whole front of a stage box was pushed into the orchestra. On "Lady's Night," a policeman was almost completely undressed and hoisted over the shoulders of the audience to a box, where he was kept prisoner.

The Alhambra must be full of ghosts—and I am sure they will hate the luxury and glitter of the super cinema which is to take its place, and sigh again for the good old nights.

Gods Into Ghosts

When Christianity triumphed over ancient paganism, the seal of the new converts led them to regard their old gods as evil spirits and demons. On one night of the year, Halloween, or the Eve of All Saints' Day, all these demoted god-demons were supposed to have a recess from their underworld prison, to parade in fiery forms and raise what mischief they could. Quite in a literal sense, "pandemonium" was let loose—as it still is on Halloween. But now the imps are only quite human boys (and tomboys), and the fiery fiends are only hollow pumpkins. Great Pan is not quite dead—but how he is transmuted!

PATRONS FOR EXAMPLE
From The Windsor Star

The outs condemn the ins for doing the very things the outs want to get 'n to do.

The violence done us by others is often less painful than that which we do to ourselves.

—Rouhefoucauld.

W.B.A. Official Honored at Banquet

Mrs. Mairy Baird Welcomed By Local Review

Marking the forty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Women's Benefit Association and honoring Mrs. Mary Baird of Sarnia, Dominion supervisor of the W.B.A. and the first woman vice-president of the Canadian Fraternal Association, members of Queen Alexandra Review held a most successful banquet last night in the Metropolitan United schoolroom.

The Review colors of red and white were reflected in the attractive floral decorations of the tables and in the dainty place cards for those seated at the head table. The Ladies' Aid of the church had charge of the catering, headed by Mrs. Ozard. The banquet was under the supervision of Mrs. Jean Bowden, and the decorations were the handiwork of Mrs. W. McAllister.

TOASTS HONORED After the toast to the King and the singing of the National Anthem, Mrs. Minnie Ritchie, president of the Review, extended greetings to Mrs. Baird, and a toast was proposed to the supreme president, Mrs. Rita West Miller. Mrs. Baird responded. Miss Caroline O'Brien acted as chairman.

The toast to the association was responded to by Mrs. Barraclough, formerly Miss Annie Reid, W.B.A. deputy, president of the Girls' Qu-Alex Club and vice-president of the Review, who has just returned to Victoria from her honeymoon trip to California. Mrs. Barraclough spoke of her interest in the work and of her plans for her girls' group.

Miss Caroline O'Brien, provincial supervisor, who was here for the occasion, then introduced Mrs. Baird, who expressed her delight in being again in Victoria and in meeting her friends in the Review. She specially thanked the members of the Review, the Pioneer Club and the Qu-Alex Girls for their gifts of flowers which she had received upon her arrival at the Empress Hotel.

MANY BENEFITS Established in 1892, the W.B.A. has been making great strides ever since, and there are now 225,000 members, Mrs. Baird said. It is the largest actually solvent society managed exclusively by women in the world, and has $39,000,000 now invested. Nursing service, health and death benefits amounting to $55,000,000 have been paid out to members and their families.

Every effort is being made to build up a junior association equal in membership to the adult, and the older members are watching with the greatest interest the progress of their younger sisters, giving them all possible help, sympathy and advice, and showing a definite interest in all their undertakings.

It was of special interest to learn that the Canadian membership has the highest percentage of persistency. A permanent Dominion license was granted in 1924.

Mrs. McQueen Todd expressed the thanks of the Review to the Ladies' Aid.

RITUAL EXEMPLIFIED After the banquet, the members and special visitors adjourned to the Victoria Truth Centre for a business session, and the ritualistic work was exemplified.

Mrs. Baird gave an instructive address on the work of the W.B.A. The following candidates were initiated: Mrs. Phyllis Ritchie, Mrs. Charlotte Yeaman, Miss Rita Keeler, Rita Galle, Ida Tatham, June McAllister, Helen Attack, Winnie Graham, Marjorie Bowden and May Watkins, with Mrs. M. A. Ritchie, the president, in charge.

Pope to Issue Marriage Code

Associated Press

Vatican City, Oct. 30.—Pope Pius is working on an important document on marriage possibly a new encyclical letter, according to releases, which he intends shortly to transmit to the world.

The Holy Father has demonstrated great interest in the question of matrimony in recent months. Under his authorization, the Congregation of Rites issued a complete new code for the trying of marriage cases before diocesan tribunals.

Later another ordinance was passed which would give the tribunal of the Sacred Rota, charged with hearing marriage nullification cases, the final decision throughout the world.

The Pope, it was recalled, published an encyclical letter on matrimony, called "Casti Connubii," December 30, 1930.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. R. Fawcett on Monday evening at their home, 1923 Davis Street, in celebration of their silver wedding anniversary. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. Robb, Mr. and Mrs. W. Menzies, Mrs. Laird, Mr. and Mrs. W. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. D. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Coxworth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jaffray, Mr. and Mrs. J. Shields, A. Kendrick, Andrews and J. Jaffray.

Boy's New Use For Lip-reading

Dallas, Oct. 30. — Public school health officials announced lip-reading classes for deaf and partly deaf pupils and found the classes suddenly swamped.

But their worry was ended by a boy's confession to Miss Louise Tillyer, instructor.

"Aw, we can hear, but we can't let those other guys get ahead of us on this lip-reading business. Why, they can sit on one side of the room and tune in on a conversation on the other side."

Kitsilano Park Move Is Made

Eviction notices to squatters on the Kitsilano Indian Reserve shore in Vancouver have been served by the provincial government, and if the Vancouver City Council wants to acquire the area for park purposes it only has to see that squatters are removed. R. Bone Holland, chairman of the Vancouver Parks Board, announced after a series of conferences here yesterday between himself, Fred Cronin, of the parks board, and Vancouver members of the Legislature.

Funds have been made available for cleaning up and beautifying the spot, and the parks board is ready to proceed by November 15 if the squatters are removed, Mr. Holland said.

The parks board also urged Vancouver members to assist in preserving the Grouse Mountain property for park purposes by getting the government and North Vancouver commissioner to agree to its dedication as a park, if necessary by selling it to some public body for the back taxes now owing to North Vancouver. A government grant to be used in cleaning up and beautifying the Canadian side of the International Memorial Peace Park at Blaine was also urged by the delegation.

London, Oct. 30. — Parliamentary history will be made Tuesday when a woman, for the first time, will move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. She will be Miss Florence Horsburgh, the senior member for Dundee.

The problem is what shall she wear. It is customary for the mover and seconder of the address to wear court dress or uniform. As peeresses and others present at the opening of Parliament customarily wear evening dress, it is possible Miss Horsburgh will follow their example.

The Picture of Health!

AS A BABY he was raised on BORDEN'S ST. CHARLES, the better Irradiated Evaporated Milk. Now, as a result, he is growing into sturdy childhood. And his whole life will mirror those early steady gains he made on this fine pure milk.

There are many reasons why so many thousands of bottle-fed babies are thriving on ST. CHARLES. Most important—it is simply the finest pure fresh country milk, evaporated and homogenized to make it more digestible. And the experienced care which BORDEN exercises from dairy farm to the tin you buy, is your assurance that ST. CHARLES quality is never surpassed.

Every drop of BORDEN'S ST. CHARLES is irradiated for extra Sunshine Vitamin D, which helps build straight limbs, sound teeth, a strong back and resistance to childhood ills. This makes ST. CHARLES the last word in modern nourishment for your baby... and for the rest of the family, too. Ask your Doctor for advice on feeding your baby.

WILL CONDUCT MISSION HERE

Rev. Dr. W. G. Scroggie to Be Speaker at St. Andrew's

Rev. Dr. W. G. Scroggie, one of the outstanding Bible students of today, will be in Victoria next month to conduct a preaching mission at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in conjunction with the World Dominion Movement.

The mission will commence on November 1 and continue nightly until November 13, with the exception of November 7.

Dr. Scroggie has exercised wide-reaching ministries in London, Halifax, Sunderland, and for over seven years at Charlotte Chapel, Edinburgh, where he spoke to an average of 1,500 people every week.

REV. W. G. SCROGGIE, D.D.

Dr. Scroggie is a graduate of the Pastor's College, London, but the influence of his ministry was such that the University of Edinburgh conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity, in recognition of his work as a preacher and writer, a degree which is greatly coveted.

Dr. Scroggie's books, now reaching a considerable number, are being widely read in all parts of the world, and wherever he goes as a preacher or convention speaker, large numbers wait upon his ministry.

The subjects for Sunday and next week will be: Sunday, "Wonderful Love"; Monday, "Recoverable Years"; Tuesday, "Taken, Broken and Given"; Wednesday, "The Meaning and Practice of Prayer"; and Thursday, "The Queen of Literature." The Victoria Youth Congress will meet on Friday, and at this gathering Dr. Will H. Houghton, president of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, will also be heard.

Subjects for the week of November 8 to 13, will be: Sunday, "Him There"; Tuesday, "Come, Learn and Go"; Wednesday, "The Transfiguration of Souls"; Thursday, "The Spirit-filled Life"; Friday, "The Unfolding Drama of Redemption"; and Saturday, "God and World Dominion."

By the time you've finished dressing, nine chances in ten, you'll feel relief coming. You'll meet the day with a clear head instead of suffering for hours.

"ASPIRIN" tablets are ready to start working almost the instant you take them. (Note illustration.) So, next early morning headache you have, try this way.

"ASPIRIN" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

ROTARY CLUB HAS CABARET

Members Entertain Wives and Friends in Amusing Programme at Empress

The Empress Hotel ballroom was last night the scene of a well-rounded and amusing entertainment programme when Victoria Rotarians played host to their wives and friends at the club's semi-annual ladies' night.

The dinner, served at 6:30 o'clock, took the form of a cabaret, with dancing between courses. Immediately afterwards club members and outside entertainers presented a highly entertaining comedy musical number which was the feature of the evening's entertainment.

Frank J. Sehl, disguised as Professor Schmitzbaum, directed the skit. His music studio was invaded by students, each of whom was called on for a number or speech. There was some confusion, through which the learned professor moved with a detached calm.

Those taking part in the skit were Arthur Kerr, Frank Shandley, Mrs. Dorothy Sehl, Donald Mulcahy, Mrs. Lillian Shandley, Thomas Keady, Miss Harriet Malstrom (Seattle), Miss Patsy Swift and Colonel H. E. Goodman.

In the second half of the skit the professor was seen displaying an advertisement for first class musicians to form a German band. By ones and twos they arrived, were interviewed by the professor and given their parts. At first the worthy gentleman had great difficulty in persuading his band to produce anything like harmony. Later they got together and played excellent melodies, marches and overtures.

Musicians who took part in this section of the programme were Justin Olibert, Leonard Foster, Ernest Frimley, Horace Plimley and Alfred Pappcott, all regular Rotary band members, with the help of Frank Waring.

James Beatty, Walter Luney and John Simpson.

The stage programme ended with a grand finale in which the German band and the music students joined. Later the Rotarians, their wives and friends enjoyed dancing which continued until midnight.

Frank I. Doherty, president of the club, was in the chair at the dinner and at a brief routine business meeting which accompanied it.

LANGFORD

The monthly meeting of Langford Women's Institute was held Tuesday evening, Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen presiding.

Mrs. D. B. F. Bullen and Mrs. R. J. Smith were appointed delegates to the South Vancouver Island district conference to be held in Victoria on November 4.

An invitation was received from the Social Welfare to attend the conference to be held at the Empress Hotel on November 3.

Mrs. E. H. Brock reported on the pre-school clinic. The next clinic will be held November 7.

A bandaging bee was arranged for November 16. Arrangements were made for the Children's Halloween party on Saturday at 5:30 o'clock with Douglas Finlay's moving picture show at 7 o'clock.

E. W. White, of the Department of Agriculture, spoke on flower show exhibits. Details were given of the standard use of judges for the principal features of size, form, quality, uniformity and color for vegetables and fruit.

Points on growing flowers for show were given by Mr. Robinson, who advised preparation now in procuring the best seeds and keeping an exhibition corner.

Dahlia grown by A. A. F. Calland were judged and commented on by Mr. Robinson.

The monthly meeting of St. Matthew's Guild will be held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. M. Haggie, St. Aidan's House. Rev. A. M. Acheson will speak on the Vimy Pilgrimage.

Norway's Courts Barring Trotsky

Canadian Press from Havn
Oslo, Oct. 30.—Leon Trotsky, exiled Bolshevik leader, yesterday was barred from getting a hearing in Norwegian courts on the charges of terrorism laid against him during the recent Moscow trials.
A special order in council issued by the government forced Trotsky to abandon two libel suits he had instituted against a Fascist newspaper and against the official organ of the Norwegian Communist Party, which had published reports stating Trotsky was guilty of the Moscow charges.

A hen was laying eggs for Easter, and to celebrate, decided she would lay several and color them. So she laid a fair number and colored them green, blue, red, etc.

When she had finished, the rooster came along, took one look, and flew over the fence and killed the peacock next door.

SOCIAL CREDIT DIVIDEND STEP

Clearing House Directors Named as Alberta Prepares For System

Canadian Press
Edmonton, Oct. 30.—The Alberta government has taken another step toward introduction of Social Credit dividends by appointing W. D. King and J. F. Percival to the management board of the Alberta Clearing House, the second of the treasury.

The two officials will do most of the management of the credit house, an integral link in the Social Credit set-up. Mr. King will be superintendent, the titular head of the board.

The government hopes to have credit houses established in twelve northern constituencies within two or three weeks. They will act as banks for Social Credit dividends, where the dividends are distributed and the credit is accounted. In addition, the credit houses will accept cash to be transferred into dividends either wholly or in part.

Coal Shipped By Northfield Mine

Nanaimo, Oct. 30.—Two twenty-five ton cars of coal, the first to come from the recently-opened Northfield mine of Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, were shipped over the siding to the Esquimalt and Nanaimo main line Wednesday and hauled to the local coal yards.

Although this shipment has been made, it is not believed the mine is ready to begin active production yet.

ISLAND OF GUAM HAS EARTHQUAKE

Associated Press
Guam, Oct. 30.—An earthquake of unusual intensity shook this mid-Pacific island at 4:40 a.m. today (10:40 a.m., Thursday, P.S.T.), and slightly damaged some buildings. No one was hurt.

Lesser shocks were still being felt at 8:30 a.m.

Recently the Pan-American Airways established a base at Guam for flights between California and the Philippines.

Letters to The Editor

THE JOHN HOWARD WORK

To the Editor:—A tag is to be held Saturday, October 31, to raise urgently-needed funds for the work of the Victoria branch of the John Howard Society. Many do not know of this society and its work, so a short explanation may be of help in making a responsible contribution to support both its work and urging of reform in penology—the lowest motive in the interests of the taxpayer, acknowledging that "I am indeed my brother's keeper."

Work and aims of the society are:

- (1) To help men discharged from prisons, or gauged parole, to get back on their feet.
- (2) To assist their families when men are serving prison terms.
- (3) To check crime at its source by helping to improve conditions and by dealing sympathetically with first offenders.
- (4) To study and promote the steady improvement of our prison system, so that the redemptive rather than the punitive ideal may predominate.

ALICE COLLOUGH.
Women's Branch, the John Howard Society.

HALLOWEEN A SACRED OCCASION

To the Editor:—The Eve of All Soul's Day is Remembrance Day of all dear departed ones—parents, relatives and friends. If pupils in our schools were but told the sacredness of Halloween (sacred evening) they would surely respect the time and not desecrate it as so many, and so say, do.

STRETHELL CLARKE
Dufferin Avenue.

TWO SEWING MACHINES

To the Editor:—May I ask for space to appeal for the loan of sewing machines for the use of two sewing groups who work hard for the San-John Welfare Association. These ladies give up their time and work hard, but their efforts are hampered for the lack of machines.

Perhaps someone going away would loan us one while absent?

KATHLEEN OLDFIELD.

DR. SCROGGIE AS PREACHER

To the Editor:—Dr. Graham Scroggie's visit to Victoria is being well advertised. We are favored in having this opportunity of hearing so celebrated a preacher.

I think the following extract from a letter received today by me from a young person in Vancouver will be of interest and influence:

"Last night we went to hear Dr. Scroggie. He is splendid. A good teacher—so clear and definite and with a very dry sense of humor. 'The Blessed Man' (first three verses of Psalm 1). He spoke for nearly an hour and a half and it seemed like fifteen minutes. They say he was wonderful on Sunday night, speaking on John 11:16."

JULIUS W. HEWITT.
Sub. P.O. 32, Victoria.

TRIBUTE FROM SIX MOTHERS

To the Editor:—We, the mothers of the six children who have been appearing on the Show Boat this summer, and later at the Winter Fair, known as the baby sextette, wish to put on record our appreciation of the very kindly way in which Mr. Edick, the secretary of the association has treated these little kiddies.

He has been so consistently sympathetic with the children and we know that our kiddies have been prepared to do their best at all times in order to win Mr. Edick's approval because they all like him.

As some publicity of an opposite nature was given during the early part of the Show Boat season, we think it only fair to pay this tribute at this time, to a man who has proved himself to be only a gentleman but a real lover of kiddies.

Legal Questions

The service supplied by this department is free to readers of The Times. Space does not permit the publication here of the answers to all questions. All questions will be personally replied to by mail, if accompanied with a 3-cent stamp. All communications will be treated as confidential.

Question: Would it be slander to call a man a "Communist"?

Answer: The answer to this question depends on the circumstances. In some places it would be regarded as a compliment. In any case, it is doubtful whether such a term would under any circumstances be held to be slander, though it might (seem) in Kansas.

Parallel Thoughts

A brother-offended is harder to be won than a strong city; and their contentions are like the bars of a castle.—Proverbs xviii 19.

A very small offense may be a just cause for great resentment; it is often much less the particular instance which is obnoxious to us, than the proof it carries with it of the general tenor and disposition of the mind whence it springs.—Greville.

PAPER MAKING

Tientsin, Oct. 30.—China, the world's first paper-making country, is now so short on wood pulp that swamp reeds and grasses are being tried as paper materials.

Despite political disturbances, experiments with these materials are going forward here at Nankai University. One paper mill has obtained a patent on making paper from reeds.

CARNIVAL AT FAIR PLANNED

Prizes Offered Tomorrow For Best Halloween Costumes

An added attraction at the Winter Fair at the Armories, a Halloween carnival, is planned by the Tourist Trades Development Association for tomorrow. Already 7,800 persons have attended the fair, and it is expected the total for the second half of the week will show a marked increase.

All children under fifteen years old will be admitted free tomorrow if in costume, or at a reduced price if not in costume, and a child will be admitted free with every adult buying a ticket.

Several prizes will be awarded for the best costumes. Grimaldi, the speechless clown of the fair, will judge the children on the platform. The Sunshine Inn, running a contest for a complete kitchenette suite, proposes to give a free ticket to every child in costume tomorrow. Proceeds of the contest go to the funds of the Sunshine Inn.

Grimaldi will lead a snake parade of costumed children through the fair during the evening, and the management plans several Halloween surprises.

Boys and girls who won awards in the ticket-selling competition will be given their prizes at 10:45 o'clock tomorrow evening by Mrs. David Leeming.

Cakes in the competition in connection with the B.C. Electric cooking classes will be judged by Miss C. M. Martin tomorrow afternoon. Prizes of $5, $3, and a cooked dinner will be awarded. Entry forms may be secured from the B.C. Electric offices on Douglas Street.

Holders of winning door tickets yesterday evening were: L. Bell, 201 Lodge Avenue; P. V. Palmer, 1230 Styles Street; Miss McMullin, 37 Beach Drive; Mrs. A. Bendrodt, 48 Menzies Street; Mrs. K. Foster, Royal Oak; J. Campbell, 6304 Vine Street; C. Meager, 2010 Douglas Street; B. Monney, 3148 Washington Avenue; P. W. Collin, 1710 Denman Street; D. E. Kerr, 1702 Quadra Street; Mrs. Wilson, Cecil Hotel; W. G. Young, 2934 Bridge Street; D. McKean, 142 South Turner Street; and Mrs. A. Mansell, 128 Gore Street.

Scottish And Navy Clash In Feature Rugby Match Tomorrow

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

AFTER looking over Victoria's two senior basketball units at the High School gym on Wednesday evening, one is left with the impression the Dominions are going to be a tough club to beat, despite the loss of four regulars to their league opponents, the Capitals. The Caps will have to step lively and get their passing, offensive and defensive work clicking much better if they are going to give the western champions competition. In the first game there was no doubt as to the better club, and after ten minutes' time the exhibition was anything but a crowd pleaser. In all fairness to the Capitals, it must be said they were handicapped through not having the opportunity to get much practice on the High School floor. That no doubt made a difference as the Dominions had been working out there regularly.

Of the six rookies trotted out to the floor by the Dominions, Carl Coates, "Red," having an Roy Taylor were outstanding. Coates especially stood out. Although he was not so flashy as either Taylor or Taylor, he played a mighty fine game at guard with Chuck Chapman. His blocking, intercepting of passes and work under the basket was everything that could be expected of a player making a first appearance in first-class company. Davies, a small, stocky and speedy youngster, showed flashes of real talent. He is a quick thinker, handles the ball nicely and fits in with a fast attack as featured by the Dominions. Taylor is a good running mate for Art Chapman. Packing lots of weight, he can bore in and shoot with a couple of opponents hanging all over him.

Other new members of the team showed up well, but need some of the rough edges taken off before they can be rated good senior material. But all of them appeared to have the makings, and that is what counts.

The Capitals although they were beaten by twenty points, are not a bit discouraged. Talked to several of their players after the game, and they were confident they would make a much better showing in the second engagement.

The Caps have a good forward line in Martin, Goldsmith and Andrews, and if they can plug the holes in their defence the score in the second game should be a lot closer.

Ice hockey is certainly going over with a bang in the Old Country. The game has taken such a hold that this season a weekly newspaper is being published called the "Ice Hockey World." It deals with nothing but hockey in England and Scotland, and is an eight-page paper. The editions carry articles on games by special writers from all parts of the country in addition to having many feature stories.

The edition of October 14 contained a long article, with a picture, on Joseph Shuter Smith, new director of ice hockey at the Empress Stadium, Esquimalt, London. He will be remembered as the former manager of the Victoria Cubs in the Pacific Northwest League. After leaving this neck of the woods Smith became scout for Lester Patrick's New York Rangers of the National Hockey League. He held this post for a year and then dropped from sight. Now he has popped up again, and according to the article is making a success in his latest connection with ice hockey.

Hindmarch New Football Head

Nanaimo, Oct. 30.—Alderman J. G. Hindmarch was named president of the Nanaimo City Football Club at a special meeting in the clubhouse Wednesday night.

Bob Semple, the well-known "kale-miner," who was at one time quite active in the club, was the meeting's choice as vice-president, succeeding the new president.

Four new members were added to the executive. These are F. Robinson, J. Mortimer, M. Armstrong and J. G. McGregor.

A committee was appointed to interview various prospects for the management, and a selection committee was named for Sunday's game with North Shore United as follows: J. Knight, captain; J. Clark and P. Kemp, trainers; R. Semple and F. Robinson.

Fight For Second Place In Senior League Standings

Both Teams Show Plenty of Power For Game at Macdonald Park

Two Intermediate Fixtures Slated

TOMORROW'S MATCHES

Senior — Navy vs. Scottish, Macdonald Park. B. Macmillan referee.

Intermediate — Wanderers vs. Navy, Macdonald Park. K. Symons referee.

Scottish vs. Fifth Brigade, Navy Grounds. F. C. Sweetman referee.

Interscholar — Brentwood College vs. St. George's, Vancouver, at Brentwood.

All games scheduled for 2 o'clock.

The Army and the Navy play puss-in-the-corner, with the cellar berth in Victoria's still young senior rugby league going to the loser in tomorrow's chief English code attraction.

The Army, represented by the Canadian Scottish, and the sailors have both succumbed to the thrusts of the James Bay Athletic Association. Tomorrow, at Macdonald Park, they will decide whether or not the relative margins by which they were beaten mean anything in the current Barnard Cup race.

Mathematically the Highlanders should be 5 to 1 choices, since they lost by an unconverted try, while the Navy went under to the tune of three touchdowns and three converts.

But the mathematical aspect is not expected to figure in tomorrow's duel. The sailors, with potentially good backs, had no spark to send their three-quarters away against the fast-closing Navy's three and speedy tagging forwards.

Apart from the importance of the match in the league standings, the fixture will also be of major interest in view of the impending selection of a local rep squad. The committee will have its eyes peeled for talent, particularly in the scrum, to match with the cream of the Bays in the city all-star squad.

SCOTTISH LINE-UP

In an effort to strengthen the Highlanders, Coach Aubrey Walls will use Bill Wharton as hook and Ian Acland in the scrum, which will include Campbell Forbes, Herb Rowland, Harry Eastman, Ed. Carter, Dan Dowell and Sam Gardner.

Alex Anderson will play right behind the pack, with "Fletcher" Martin as stand-off half. Frank Speer and Ronnie McConnon are billed for inside three-quarter berths and John Forbes and Bill Thompson as wings. Ted Colgate will play fullback. Reserves include Knight, Morton and Pearce.

Bruce Robinson is expected to return to the Navy fifteen as fullback for the game while the three-quarters will probably be Chuck Sweet, Williams, Joe Paul and "Snakes" Hall. Bill Smith and Fred Freeman are tentatively listed as scrum halves, while the pack will most probably include Corbin, Rutherford, McRae, Barker, Bennett, Banfield, Nelson and Stubbs.

INTERMEDIATES

In the intermediate section Oak Bay Wanderers' champions last year and undefeated league leaders this season, are scheduled to meet the Navy at Macdonald Park, while the fifth brigade and the Canadian Scottish go in quest of points at Admiral's Road.

At Brentwood, the Tod Inlet boys will be playing in their first interschool game when they stack up against the smart St. George's team from Vancouver. The Collegians, captained by M. Symons, have several of last year's stars back. Field, Well, Aselstine, Isara and Mitchell will all be in uniform along with Ian Ross, former Victoria College boy, and Johnson, of Duncan Grammar School, included in the team.

In the morning the junior teams of the two schools will meet at 11 o'clock.

Fifth Brigade, intermediates—Coaker, Smith, Bishop, Bridge, Winsby, Noel, Coomber, Russell, Grey, Dalzell, C. Doherty, Pellett, Barney, F. Doherty, Guelph, Recovers, Murray and Scott. Players to meet at the Armories at 2 o'clock.

Hoop Squads Meet Tonight

Six hoop quintettes will play this evening at the High School gym in a trio of matches carded by the Victoria and District Basketball League. The opener will be at 7:30 o'clock. Heading the card at 9:30 o'clock will be West Saanich Mercantiles and Jennings Florists, men's senior B squads. The suburban squad has a pair of wins to its credit, while the Florists have yet to break into the win column.

Coast finalists in the intermediate A playoffs last year, Kingham-Gillies will tackle the Regents in the second match, while the opener will see Canadian Scottish and Hudson's Bay men's senior C teams clash.

SHUTTLE PLAY OPENS NOV. 7

Twenty-five Teams Entered in Five Divisions of Lower Island Loop

Shuttle enthusiasts from the lower island will take to the courts early next month when, under twenty-five clubs entered in five divisions of the loop, will battle in the opening matches of 1936-37 season of the Lower Vancouver Island Badminton League.

The executive committee met yesterday evening and following the meeting, F. A. Jackson, secretary of the league, announced the dates when the clubs will swing into action.

The fourth division has the largest entry with six clubs, while five teams entered the second section, and a like number in the fifth division. The first and third divisions carried four entries each. Clubs in the second and fourth divisions will swing into action on November 7, while the first division players begin their season battle five days later.

Pat Fraley Wins Bout With Szabo

Vancouver, Oct. 30.—Pat Fraley, Omaha, last night handed Sanford Szabo, Hungary, his first defeat in many months, taking a one-fall victory over the Hungarian in a controversial submission fall main bout of a wrestling card.

Other results: Jack Forsgren, 240, Vancouver, took one fall from Leo Numa Anderson, 228, Seattle.

Donald McIntyre, 212, Scotland, won from Bull Martin, 225, Trenton, N.J., on a four-point decision.

Probably the strangest marine monstrosity ever to sail any of the "seven seas" was the English ship, "Connector," built and launched about 1850.

Constructed in three water tight sections which were loosely hinged together, its design was expected to make the vessel ride heavy seas in a smooth, undulating motion.

It was hoped also, that the loading and discharging of the ship's cargo would be greatly facilitated by dis-

When Rangers get their first real test at their Winnipeg training camp, it will be a case of youth matching strides with veterans in efforts to please Manager Lester Patrick. Rangers' line of Cecil Dillon, Frankie Boucher and Lynn Patrick and Lynn Patrick will likely face the young Philadelphia Ramblers, a string of Bobby Kirk, Clint Smith and Bryan Hestall.

Exhibition games are not considered much of a criterion as to league play and it's perhaps just as well. The Frenchmen, who claimed to be a rejuvenated team since Howie Morenz rejoined their ranks, took a 6 to 1 drubbing at the hands of Springfield Indians of the International-American League in Ottawa last night.

About the only redeeming feature of the pasting was that as Habitués are concerned, was far as Paul Runge, scrappy Canadiens' player loaned to Springfield for the contest, scored one goal and provided assists for two others.

Aurel Joliat, veteran forward, marked up Habitués' only tally but the line from which Manager Cecil Hart expects so much, Howie Morenz, Johnny Gagnon and Joliat failed to show any of the old zip and tided as the battle speeded up.

When Jack Adams said his great attacking line of Larry Aurie, Barry Barrie and Herbie Lewis were even more effective than last season, he was not fooling. They stole the show in Detroit last night as Wings beat the Olympics 6 to 1 to make it two straight in the city title series. Barry scored four goals himself and assisted in another.

Playing for the losers, who became the popular happy men, had outshone a number of youngsters and on New York Americans' roster, The Barrie product was going great guns with America last winter until he broke his hand.

Flash Hollett, who just could not seem to find himself with Maple Leafs, appears to have clicked under Art Ross's tutelage with Boston Bruins. The big fellow is bumping them harder than he did while wearing Leaf regalia and last night figured prominently in Bruins' 1 to 0 victory over Montreal Maroons at Moncton, N.B.

Anybody who thought George Hainsworth was going to retire pronto should have dropped in at the exhibition game Toronto Leafs staged in Galt last night. George looked better than his young rival, "Turk" Broda, when he guarded nets in the "Blues" who defeated "Whites" 5 to 3. The teams, a jumble of Leafs and Syracuse Stars, gave everything they had to impress Coaches Dick Irvin and Eddie Power.

The little fellow had to face such snipers as Bill Thoms, Buzz Bolt, Frank Finnigan, Pep Kelly, Nick Metz and Art Jackson, but handled their drives in the form that placed him among the game's best a few seasons ago. It should be a great race between these two padded giants.

V.A.C. LINEUP

The V.A.C. juvenile soccer lineup for tomorrow is as follows: Thomas, Tonkin, Simpson, Lowe, Atherton, McAllister, Shubrooke, Popham, Mar. C. Smith, Travis, Harding, Watson, Booth, Roberts, Holding, Bishop and G. Smith. All players are requested to be at the Victoria West Park at 10 o'clock.

Soccer teams from the Esquimalt High and Victoria College played to a 1 to 1 draw in a match played yesterday at Bullen Park. Robinson scored for the college and Harris for Esquimalt.

The students decided to offer the Alberta-Saskatchewan winner a guarantee of $500 and the first $200 of the net gate receipts to make the trip.

Winnipeg-Riders In Major Battle

Hockey Gossip

There has been less ballyhoo about Chicago Black Hawks in training than any of the other National Hockey League clubs but don't count them out just yet. Although most of their regulars are at hand, Hawks continued to add youth for future campaigns, the latest acquisition being Harold Jackson, nineteen-year-old Windsor boy who starred in Toronto interscholastic hockey. Jackson's speed has been one of the bright spots of Chicago drills at Hibbing, Minn.

The Colville brothers of Edmonton, star rookies with New York Rangers, are all mixed up. Mac isn't Mac at all—he's just plain Matthew and Neil is really Mac. Neil's correct name is MacNeil but his brother didn't like Matthew so now Matthew is Mac and MacNeil is Neil.

When Rangers get their first real test at their Winnipeg training camp, it will be a case of youth matching strides with veterans in efforts to please Manager Lester Patrick. Rangers' line of Cecil Dillon, Frankie Boucher and Lynn Patrick and Lynn Patrick will likely face the young Philadelphia Ramblers, a string of Bobby Kirk, Clint Smith and Bryan Hestall.

Western Canada's Two Great Rugby Football Machines Clash in Second Game of Final; Pegs Hold Five-point Lead; Fritz and Kabat Out of Play

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—Greatest rugby machines western Canada has known, Regina Roughriders and Winnipeggers will clash here tomorrow in the final game of a season-long battle in which neither team has shown an edge.

The grid battle will conclude a two-game series begun last Saturday in Regina when Winnipeggers, though outplayed, emerged with a 7 to 4 win to take a 9 to 4 lead in the series by virtue of the two-point margin they held over Riders at the end of the Western Conference schedule.

In their five engagements this season, each team has won twice and one game has been tied. Three points has been the widest margin of any victory.

HANSON IS BACK

Fritz Hanson, backfield phantom of the Canadian champions, returned to Winnipeg practices this week after ten days on the shelf with a dislocated shoulder and, apparently well recovered, should be as dangerous as ever tomorrow.

Winnipeg's spirits were dashed, however, by announcement of Manager Frank Emma that Coach Bob Fritz and "Greg" Kabat, dynamic plungers and secondary defence players, probably would not appear in the final Regina game. Both were injured severely last Saturday.

Riders will be bolstered by the return of their 220-pound line tornado, Louis Chumlich. The team is closer to top strength than at any time since the season's first fixture.

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Ten of eastern Canada's eleven senior rugby squads were pronounced ready today for tomorrow's duelling on the Interprovincial, Intercollegiate and Ontario Union fronts, in games that will go far towards deciding final league standings. Only Hamilton—Oshawa of the O.R.F.U. will be idle over the week-end.

Toronto Argonauts traveled to Montreal and Art West, their pint-sized backfielder, was among them. West, it had been feared, would be unable to play against Indians because of an infected arm.

McGill Redmen, following a speedy workout in rain and mud, expressed confidence of upsetting University of Toronto for the second successive week.

At Toronto Bob Webster featured the Bulls' workout with his lofty punting. Ready for a last-ditch stand, Coach Ted Reeve worked through practice with a complete Queen's squad, Harry Sonshine, burly ace of the secondary defence, was scheduled to start against University of Western Ontario.

CUP FOOTBALL ON TOMORROW

Four First Division Clubs Will Engage in Milton Cup Competition

Tomorrow's first division soccer matches will see the four clubs engage in Milton Cup competition. The Victoria West will meet the Victoria City at the Athletic Park and Esquimalt will clash with the Saanich Thistles at Bullen Park.

Both matches will start at 2:30 o'clock with overtime if necessary. The Esquimalt-Victoria West second division match has been postponed.

Teams follow: Esquimalt — L. De Costa, Marsh, Laird, McBay, Restall, Boyd, E. De Costa, Watt, Robinson, B. Barnswell, Browne, E. Barnswell, Griffin and Richardson.

Victoria West—Restall, Sweeney, R. ell, Lorandini, R. Barnes, Sage, G. Bell, Stewart, Watt, Robinson, Morgan, S. Barnes, D. Gent and F. Hall. Victoria City—Bowe, Moody, Roper, C. Robbins, G. Robbins, Gar Robbins, Halkett, Okell, Hodgson, Moore, Payne, Brandow, Beside, Peers and Pearce. Players are asked to meet at the Athletic Park at 2 o'clock. Saanich Thistles, first division—Chalmers, Stoffer, Harper, R. Williams, Leggett, Speller, Turner, Sage, Easler, Gent, English, Williams and Myles.

English Soccer Leaders Weakened Teams For Games Tomorrow

Clubs Weakened By Giving Stars For International

Both Brentford and Derby Supply Players; Portsmouth Should Hold Lead

Aberdeen Will Oppose Albion

London, Oct. 30.—The international soccer match between Scotland and Ireland at Belfast tomorrow will weaken many English teams at the week-end, but Portsmouth, leading team in the first division, has not been called on to supply players and is likely to retain its place at the top of the pack.

Wolverhampton Wanderers, only one rung from the bottom in the league ladder, visit Portsmouth at Fratton Park, but should provide no obstacle for the fast-stepping leaders.

Brentford, runner-up, will take the field at Leeds without McCulloch, crack centre-forward who is playing for Scotland. Despite this handicap the Bees should be able to take the measure of the Yorkshire squad, now in last place. Brentford, with fifteen points, is two behind Portsmouth in the standing.

Scotland will also have the assistance of Napier and Duncan of Derby County, one of Brentford's most formidable rivals. The county will substitute Ramage and Wilson at Stamford Bridge against Chelsea, which will line up without Mitchell, playing for Ireland, and Gibson, out with an injured knee. Derby will have to fight hard for points, as the pensioners have had only three goals scored against them in the last seven matches.

SECOND DIVISION

Bury, second division leader, and Burnley meet on the former's ground in an East Lancashire derby. The visitors will include William Smith at right-half. He was transferred from Crystal Palace during the week. Although minus Masse, Scottish international star, Aston Villa is likely to capture a point, at least, against Sheffield United in the Yorkshire city. Tottenham Hotspurs are hosts to Bradford City at White Hart Lane and will have the services of Rowe and Edrich, the Middlesex cricketer.

Luton Town, at home, will be given a great battle by Bournemouth. Its rival for leadership in the southern section of the third division. John Smith, former English international, has been transferred from Bournemouth to Clapton Orient and he will play for his new club against Bristol Rovers in London. Vincent Blane, West Ham United goalkeeper, has gone to Crystal Palace at a substantial fee and will assist the Londoners against Watford.

In the northern section, Hull City will also go on the field with a new man against the powerful Chester squad. The City, during the week, signed on Jerry Best, Darlington sharpshooter, who played in the United States for a while.

Glasgow, Oct. 30.—Critics who have followed the fortunes of Glasgow Rangers in the Scottish Football League are bemoaning the fact the

Ryder Cup Golf Dates Are Set

New York, Oct. 30.—The fifth renewal of the International professional Ryder Cup golf match will be played at Southport, Eng., June 29-30 next year, George Jacobus, president of the United States Professional Golfers' Association, announced yesterday.

The dates follow the U.S. open championship, and precede the British open. The Americans will remain in England for the latter event.

Cupholders have not the punch of former years. The Ibrox Park team has played twelve games, seven entries going into the win column and the remaining in the drawn group. But the Rangers alone of the thirty-eight clubs making up both divisions boast an unbeaten record.

Last week's contest in Glasgow against the lowly Queen of South was counted as a two-point affair before the teams took the field. The game ended 1 to 1 and it was termed "unfortunate" for the Dummies against the Hamilton Academicals will provide the opposition tomorrow at Douglas Park, and to keep their record intact the third-place Rangers cannot afford to take chances. They will not be at full strength as Dawson, their goal-keeper, and Simpson and Brown, halfbacks, will play for Scotland against Ireland in an international game at Belfast.

SOFT GAMES

Aberdeen and Celtic have comparative soft games. The Dons, leading the loop with a four-point margin over the Celts, play at home against Albion Rovers, hanging on to the seventeenth rung of the championship ladder and Celtic goes to Arbroath.

Partick Thistle suffered its first setback in eight weeks against Third Lanark at Cathkin Park last Saturday. The Thistles play at home tomorrow against Dundee.

In fourth place, Hearts should triumph over Clyde at Shawfield Park, while Third Lanark, well up with the leaders, has an away game at Easter Road, home of Hibernians.

Falkirk and St. Mirren, promoted last spring, play at home, the former against the powerful Motherwell eleven, while Dunfermline supplies the opposition for the Saints. The other two games on the card bring together Queen of South and St. Johnstone on the former's ground, and Queens Park and Kilmarnock at Hampden.

Morton has a good chance to retain leadership in the second division with a home game against Forfar Athletic. The big game of the day, however, is scheduled between Raith Rovers and St. Bernards, in second and third places respectively. The Rovers are one point up on the Saints.

The Saanich and District Football League will stage a Halloween dance tomorrow evening in Alex's Hall, Burnside Road. Dancing will be from 9 to 11 o'clock. There will be a number of good novelties. The public is invited.

Japanese Have Own Series

While American baseball fans were loudly cheering the antics of Yankees and Giants in the world series, Japan, the land where the United States pastime has caught on as in no other foreign country, was just as vociferously applauding its own series. Here is a stirring action shot as Waseda and Tokyo Imperial universities competed in a series in the six-university league of that city. It shows Takana of Waseda sliding safely into home.

High Rugby Team In Close Victory

The Victoria High School Blues edged out St. Louis College 3 to 0 in an exhibition rugby game at the High School yesterday afternoon.

Bill Brown scored the points for the Blues in the second half when he kicked a place kick over the bar.

The Mount View High School boys' soccer eleven and the Victoria High School B team battled to a 2 to 2 draw in a keenly contested game on the Fernwood grounds yesterday afternoon in a fixture of the Inter-high School Soccer League.

At half time Victoria led 1 to 0. Ord netted both the goals for the Victoria team and Oliver and Kitchen were scorers for Mount View.

Oakland Secures Hockey Players

Oakland, Oct. 30.—Purchase of John Red Hemmerling from Portland and Hank Dyck, Vancouver, was announced yesterday by the Oakland Clippers, new member of the Pacific Coast Hockey League. Both are wing-men.

The club seeks a defence man and goalie to complete the roster before the opening game in Portland on November 4.

Torchy-Doug To Ride at Chicago

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The six-day bicycle riding team of William "Torchy" Peden and his brother, Douglas, Victoria, will swing into action here in the race which starts in the Chicago Stadium November 8.

The younger Peden was a member of the last Canadian Olympic team. Torchy competed for Canada in the 1928 Olympics.

To Use Same Headquarters

Anchorage to Be Base of Saanich Anglers' Association for 1937 Season

For the second successive year, the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association will use the Anchorage Tea Gardens as its official headquarters for the Brentwood competition season of 1937. This was the action taken yesterday evening at a general meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce.

The association will again sponsor the annual entertainment for its members. As to what shape or form the entertainment will be, was left in the hands of the Chinook Club's entertainment committee headed by Charlie Clarke. They will also arrange for a date, which it is expected will be late in November. It will be free as in previous years.

The membership this year reached a new all-time high. President Clarke reported to the meeting. The registration book accounted for 483 members, to constitute a record enrollment since the association's inauguration four years ago. It is expected to reach the 600-mark before the next annual meeting, which will be held late in February.

A pleasing sign, Dr. Clarke pointed out, was the noticeable increase in the women's angling ranks, which enjoyed an increase of eighteen more members than last year. The women in the association this year number fifty-one.

In reviewing events of the last season at Saanich Inlet, the president disclosed the fact that it was the most successful ever enjoyed by the organization. There were more gold button fish caught last season than all the rest of the four seasons put together, he said.

It was decided to present Kendrick Findler, winner of the International Cup Derby this year, with a bronze button. In winning the coveted "Jokers" Cup he also caught a fish that won him a silver button. A week following the Derby he landed a thirty-one-pounder. He applied for a bronze button for this fish. The tackle committee, who looked into the case refused to handle it. According to the rules governing button awards the angler was entitled to apply for a bronze button for a silver button fish. The rules now read a bronze button will be presented for a fish weighing twenty pounds or over. A recommendation that the rules governing button presentations be changed was adopted.

Secretary Bev Gilson's financial report showed the association to be on a sound financial basis.

A letter from E. L. Tait, member of the executive, expressed thanks to members for their kind thoughts toward him while he was in hospital recently.

GALE WRECKS FLYING FIELD

At Trenton, Ont., One Man Critically Injured; Damage Is $25,000

Trenton, Ont., Oct. 30.—Two aircraftmen escaped death by inches in the seventy-mile-an-hour gale that swept over the Royal Canadian Air Force base here late yesterday, critically injuring one man, sending six others to a hospital and doing damage tentatively estimated at $25,000.

Scurrying for shelter when the storm struck the two airmen took refuge in a small store building. They were barely in the building when a telephone pole crashed through it, but missed both men and they escaped unharmed.

Albert Hagerman, Trenton, not expected to recover, was in a Belleville Hospital today with terrible head injuries. Harman Young, Belleville; William Labadie, Windsor, Ont.; Simon Keegan, Harold Covert, Gerald Goodwin, and George Rosenplot, all of Trenton, also were in the Belleville Hospital, less seriously hurt.

Sunday School Football League fixtures carded tomorrow are as follows: Centennials vs. Lake Hill, Central Park; referees, P. J. Woodley.

Emmanuel Baptist vs. St. Aidan's, Victoria High School; referees, P. Tooby.

Kick-offs at 2 o'clock. Halloween festivities necessitate the postponement of the game between St. Albans and Metropolitan, at Spencer's Park.

Baby In Stork Derby Succumbs

Mother Weeps Over Death of Six-months-old Blanche Timleck in Toronto

Toronto, Oct. 30.—Red-eyed and weeping, Mrs. Arthur Hollis Timleck today mourned the death of six-month-old Blanche, latest Millar baby, who will be carried to her grave the very day the ten-year child-bearing contest for the $750,000 prize draws to a close.

Stricken ten days ago with intestinal influenza, the baby failed to rally despite two blood transfusions from her father, a city parks department employee.

The thirty-six-year-old mother of thirteen other children is a leader in the race.

Meanwhile, as executors prepared to appear before an appeal court judge November 6 for directions as to disposition of the fortune, opinions were offered that the late Charles Vance Millar intended his will as a "joke."

Sir Robert Falconer, president of the University of Toronto at the time of Millar's death, said he had every reason to believe Millar intended to leave part of his fortune to the university, from which he graduated. He said he was "most disappointed" when he learned of the terms of the will.

Miss Janet Allan, secretary to the barrister for seven years immediately before his death, said a will, leaving the bulk of his estate to the university was being prepared when he died.

By December All Militia Units in Canada Will Be on New Basis, Says Ottawa

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Reorganization of the non-permanent active militia is expected to be completed about the beginning of December, and from the first of that month all units in the eleven military districts in Canada will be on the new basis. This was learned at defence headquarters yesterday.

On the broader aspects of national defence, the much-discussed proposals for an increased navy and substantial enlargement of the Royal Canadian Air Force, officials are reticent. Dispatches from abroad, representing Prime Minister King as returning to Canada with details of a new defence scheme based on a co-ordinated empire policy, drew from them no comment.

IS LONG OVERDUE

Militia reorganization, however, was within the authority of those directing the task and, it was said, having regard to the new technique of war, was long overdue. Following the Great War the composition of the Canadian militia was studied and some recommendations made, but for the most part these remained only on paper.

Now, with a definite interest manifested by the general public in matters of national defence, the government has reacted to the event of pursuing a plan of militia reorganization. Its scheme follows experiments carried on for some considerable time in the British army. In general, militia units will be organized into infantry, machine gun and tank battalions.

BRIGADE REORGANIZATION

Each brigade will comprise three infantry and one machine gun battalion. To achieve this, the present companies of the Canadian Machine Gun Corps will disappear as such, and their personnel will be merged into the nearest infantry unit which has been redesignated a machine gun battalion.

Some cavalry regiments have been merged and turned into tank battalions; a number of infantry battalions will become artillery, while many others will disappear altogether.

The general effect will be a smaller militia so far as the number of units is concerned, but a more compact one, and one whose individual unit will contain more personnel than before.

The new maid answered the telephone, muttered something and slammed down the receiver angrily. "Who was that?" asked her employer. "I was expecting a business call."

"That wasn't it, sir," said the girl. "Just a man saying, 'It's a long distance from London.' I told him we knew."

DENY ARREST OF SAILORS

Japanese Say British Sailors Not Taken Into Custody at Formosa

Canadian Press from Havaas. Tokyo, Oct. 29.—Japanese police authorities today formally denied that three British sailors had been arrested and mistreated in Keelung, Formosa, as alleged by the British Government.

The police report of the Keelung incidents of October 6 to October 9 stated British sailors on shore leave were involved in twenty-one separate incidents, ranging from breaking of utensils and non-payment of bills in dance halls, tea-houses, cafes, restaurants and the licensed quarters to misconduct toward waitresses.

Of offence to the traditional friendship between Britain and Japan, the police report said, the local authorities in Formosa suppressed publication of the incidents, which occurred during the British naval visit.

INDIGNATION VOICED

Shanghai, Oct. 29.—(Canadian Press from Havaas).—British naval authorities were indignant here today over reports from Japan which said British sailors were guilty of disorderly conduct at Keelung, Formosa, and which denied that Vice-Admiral Sir Charles Little, British commander-in-chief, had ever been invited to Japan.

Sir Charles had postponed a receipt of a reply to the British protest over the Keelung incidents, which involved sailors of the submarine tender Medway.

According to the British version, three sailors on shore leave from the Medway were arrested and mistreated by police in Keelung. Japanese police reports denied this charge and stated that British sailors had been guilty of misconduct during their four-day stay at the Formosan port.

Slump Seen In Election Cigars

Associated Press. Washington, Oct. 30.—The United States election campaign cigar today was branded a fictional tradition.

Ernest G. Behlert, an expert on tobacco marketing, showed cigar may have declined and consumption had actually slumped in the last three presidential election years, 1924, 1928 and 1932.

SETTLEMENT IS $25,000 SUM

Canadian Press. Toronto, Oct. 30.—Settlement of claims of the liquidator of the Manufacturers' Finance Corporation Limited against nine men who at various times were directors of the company for a total of $25,000 was today ratified by an order made here, O. E. Lennox, assistant master of the Supreme Court of Ontario and official referee in the winding up of the company's affairs.

Mr. Lennox approved also of a settlement of claims of the liquidator against shareholders of the company on payment by the latter of 5 per cent of the unpaid balance of such claims.

Mr. Lennox's order empowers the liquidator, Geoffrey T. Clarkson, Toronto, to settle any or all claims he may have against the following nine persons, former directors of the company: John A. Cooper, Toronto; Charles B. Howard, Ottawa; D. R. Street, Ottawa; the late William A. Westaway, Hamilton; Hon. H. H. Stevens, Vancouver; the late Senator Ogleton D. Robertson, Senator J. A. ## LABOR UNITS IN NEW GROUP

Canadian Press. Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—First step toward resurrection of the Canadian Federation of Labor, identity of which was submerged in 1927 in the All-Canadian Congress of Labor, was taken at a meeting of trades union representatives here, it was revealed yesterday evening by Allan Melkie, former executive member of the A.C.C.L.

Melkie said decision to break away from the A.C.C.L. had been reached at a caucus in Toronto a month ago of thirty-four representatives of various labor bodies. At the meeting here last Saturday, Z. David, Montreal, was named provisional president and W. T. Burford, Ottawa, secretary-treasurer of the federation. Melkie, Johnston McKinley of Vancouver, and G. W. McCollom, Toronto, were appointed provisional executive officers.

A convention of representatives of all labor organizations wishing to join the federation would be called soon, probably shortly after the new year, Melkie declared. He could not say where the convention would be held.

HAWAII-B.C. BROADCAST

Radio Programme Arranged For Early Next Year Over Columbia Network

Early in the new year a special Hawaii-British Columbia programme will be put on the air by the Honolulu Columbia station, KGBM, and broadcast over the Columbia network. It was announced here today by George I. Warren, publicity commissioner. Victoria and Vancouver will be prominently featured in the broadcast.

The idea of the Hawaii-British Columbia broadcast was conceived by the Victoria publicity commissioner who passed it along to Riley H. Allen, editor of The Honolulu Star-Bulletin when he was in Victoria about a month ago.

It was suggested that such a broadcast would be the means of giving stimulus to the friendly relations which exist between the two countries.

Mr. Allen thought it was a splendid idea and promised to set up with the Hawaii Tourist Bureau on his return to Honolulu.

ALL SET FOR HALLOWE'E'N

Arrangements For Bonfire Fetes Tomorrow Evening Completed

Arrangements for the civic-sponsored Halloween bonfire, with parties in five different sections of the city, were completed today.

Big bonfires on property at the corner of Brooke and St. Charles Streets, at Heywood Avenue football field, Victoria West Park, Spencer Park and Stevenson Memorial Park, will be lighted at 7 o'clock. Rowles' Boys' Band will visit the different centres, appearing at 7:40 o'clock at Brooke and St. Charles, at Heywood Avenue half an hour later, at Victoria West Park at 8:40 o'clock, at Spencer Park at 9:10 o'clock and at Stevenson Memorial Park at 9:40 o'clock.

The Rainbow Sea Cadets will follow, taking a different route and taking in all gatherings.

CONTEST JUDGING. Judging for the best-made pumpkin jack-o-lantern and the best costumes worn by children will start at 8 o'clock, and half an hour later prizes will be presented to each of the winners.

Officials in charge of the function today stated requests for donations of fruit and candy had met with a generous response and a good supply of refreshments was assured for each bonfire.

At Victoria West the city relayed its bonfire today after some pre-Halloween pranks had set the pile ablaze yesterday evening. In other centres the arrangements were proceeding without a hitch.

Games during the evening will include treasure hunts and mass activities under competent leadership. Through the medium of the bonfires, the city expects to give celebrating children every opportunity to enjoy the fun of All-Saints Night without damaging property or annoying home-owners.

DEBATERS GIVE MOCK BROADCAST

Members of the debaters' group of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with their friends, enjoyed a mock broadcast in the chamber auditorium yesterday evening.

Under the convener'ship of M. F. Hunter, the group presented the program along identical lines with those used in a radio station. Microphones and radio equipment were loaned by Harold George for the occasion.

Opening with a station announcement and musical selections, the programme continued with a news broadcast, interviews, criticisms, model addresses, jiffy observations, remarks by the chairman and the station signature. Musical items were interspersed between the other sections of the broadcast.

Construction of a sidewalk along St. Ann Street from Monterey Avenue to Cranmore Road was authorized by the Oak Bay Council yesterday on recommendation of the works committee. The walk will cost about $30 and will serve pedestrians on heavily traveled highway which at present has no accommodation for them.

Aorangi Will Sail Day Late

Because of storms on the Atlantic, which have delayed Canadian-bound liners, the Canadian Australasian motorship Aorangi will not sail from Victoria for Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney until next Thursday, one day behind schedule. James Macfarlane, local Canadian Pacific representative, was advised this morning.

Passengers and mails on these Atlantic ships will be unable to reach Vancouver until next Thursday morning.

My Boyhood Ambition

A Sailor

James Macfarlane, general passenger agent in Victoria for the Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamships, wanted to be a sailor when he was a small boy in Glasgow.

And that's just what he turned out to be. While he actually sails no more on ships he is mightily interested in them and every year books hundreds of Victorians to England and other distant countries. And he visits ships regularly, for it is part of his job to meet the big Empresses when they come into port.

"If I had my life to live all over again," he says, "I'd do exactly the same thing. It's funny, but my work has always been just what I wanted from the time I was a small boy."

Mr. Macfarlane has always loved ships. He sailed them when he was a lad in Glasgow. And he sailed on them in a business way when he was a young man. He crossed the Atlantic many times in the purser's office of ships, and also made a couple of voyages across the Pacific before settling down in Victoria.

"Jimmy" doesn't remember how he really earned his first dollar, for in those days, when a boy started to work, he paid his employer something for teaching him his trade or profession.

"Perhaps I earned my first money when I used to clean up the back-yard for father. You had to earn your keep then, even at home," he says.

Notes of the Legislature

The House will not sit Saturday. The definition of Rev. Robert Connell's party as the Social Constructives and the formal launching of its bid for political power in British Columbia became the chief topic of talk in legislative circles this morning.

Mr. Connell had previously indicated his intention to continue in politics after splitting with the C.C.F., but crystallized his plans in his opening speech of the session.

Jack Price, Vancouver East, has been chosen by the new party in the House, which includes also R. B. Swales, Delta, and Ernest Bakenzie, Mackenzie.

Speculation has now developed about other members, unaffiliated with specific groups, joining under Mr. Connell's leadership. R. W. Bruhn, Salmon Arm; Hugh Savage, Cowichan-Newtonville, and Thomas Uphill, Fernie, are said to be possibilities.

The three remaining official C.C.F. members, Winch, father and son, and Mrs. D. G. Stevens, will not attempt to name a spokesman. "It is a tripartite leadership," Harold Winch declared.

Mr. Connell's pronouncement makes it certain that the voters next election will have five major parties to contend with on the ballots—the Liberals, C-Constructives, C.C.F., Social Credit and Social Constructives, not to mention the Independents of various shades.

The scholarly manner used by Mr. Connell in delivery of his speech left dismayed the galleries, who were expecting a clash of tempers and personalities when the C.C.F.-ers and ex-C.C.F.-ers took part in debate.

Never so much as by a phrase or an intonation of voice did Mr. Connell make reference to his recent unpleasantness with the C.C.F. organization. And the legislative grapevine says that E. E. Winch and his wing will also ignore the matter in the House.

After pleading guilty to five charges involving theft, forgery and obtaining money by false pretences, John R. Kerr was sentenced to eight months' imprisonment with hard labor by Magistrate Hall in the City Police Court this morning. Kerr admitted four of the charges yesterday and today pleaded guilty to a fifth charge of giving a forged cheque for payment of board at a local hotel.

He was given sentences ranging from thirty to sixty days on the individual charges all commencing at the expiration of each other.

MARKET WILL RISE LITTLE

Produce Prices Will Remain Steady Despite Coastal Strikes, Wholesalers Say

Despite strikes tying up shipping along the Pacific coast, no immediate repercussions are expected on the local wholesale market.

Local growers are still supplying lettuce and tomatoes, and it is believed Arizona shippers may absorb the extra cost of transporting grapefruit by rail, as shipments are received here at delivered prices.

Valencia oranges from California will shortly be unavailable. Navel oranges, coming in normally on a declining market, will cost approximately the same as the Valencia oranges here due to the strikes, wholesalers state, but no immediate rise in price is expected.

Lemons may rise a cent a dozen to allow for rail charges. No more pomegranates will be imported from California this year. Bananas can be shipped direct from Central America without touching at ports in the United States.

A cargo of lemons, grapefruit and oranges shipped before the commencement of the strikes, is scheduled to arrive here tomorrow. A shipment of Australian oranges arrived today.

London Fire Makes Rum Cheap in B.C.

Partly because of a big fire on the London rum docks two years ago, British Columbians today were able to purchase rum at cheaper prices. The London fire destroyed millions of gallons of Demerara rum so that today the world supply of aged Demerara is very low. Faced with the shortage the B.C. Liquor Control Board has made arrangements to import Trinidad rum direct from the West Indies and this went on sale today at the liquor stores.

The new brand sells for 50 cents cheaper in imperial quarts and 40 cents cheaper in reputed quarts than the standard Demerara. By importing direct the liquor board saves a sales tax in England and is passing this reduction on to the public, board officials stated.

Increase Penalty On Taxes Tuesday

The second 1 per cent penalty on outstanding city current taxes will be applied on Tuesday, George Okell, city assessor-collector, advised delinquents today.

The 2 per cent charge will raise the penalty to 2 per cent. It will be increased again on November 17 by 1 per cent and again in December, when 3 per cent will be added, making the total extra charge 6 per cent.

Aviation Brings Science Gains

Unhindered By Tradition Advance Rapid, Physicists Told at Congress

By ROBERT D. POTTER
Science Service Staff Writer

New York, Oct. 30.—The rapid advance of aviation science has been due to the lack of traditions and the urgent necessity to make airplanes light yet safe, declared Dr. Clark B. Millikan, associate professor of aeronautics at California Institute of Technology, before the meeting this morning of the five founder societies of the American Institute of Physics. Dr. Millikan is the son of Prof. Robert A. Millikan, Noble Prize winner in physics.

"An important feature of aeronautics," said Dr. Millikan, "lies in the extreme narrowness of the margin between success and failure and in the terribly serious consequences which may result from failure. This has placed a tremendous premium on exactitude and has greatly stimulated activity in research of all kinds."

Facts now known through aeronautical research are influencing other fields of science like hydraulic and civil engineering, Dr. Millikan pointed out.

The early study of fluids—which is the province of hydraulics—he explained, was made by persons who were both scientists and engineers. But then in the 18th century mathematicians took over much of the theoretical development and produced formal equations based on idealized conditions needed to attain solutions. For example, their favorite simplification was to ignore viscosity, or the drag which a fluid exerts on a body moving in it. The result was, Dr. Millikan said, that the hydraulic engineers who had to build dams and river levees and aid in the construction of boats found the analytical scientists of little use and developed a complicated set of "rule of thumb" empirical relations. It was not until the first years of the present century that this gap between analytical science and practical engineering was lessened. The advent of aeronautics in subsequent years was an even greater factor in blending the two schools of thought into a harmonious whole.

"Now the scientist in aeronautics can no longer be trained solely in pure mathematics and abstract theoretical physics, but must have enough feeling and experience of the engineer's problems to be able to attack them with some insight into the relative practical importance of the various elements concerned," declared Dr. Millikan.

"Only fairly recently," continued Dr. Millikan, "has hydraulics begun to use at all widely the hydro-dynamical principles developed originally for aeronautical applications. Similarly, civil engineering in the last few years has begun to take advantage of the radical structural ideas which were conceived in connection with the construction of aircraft. The changes of concepts which aviation has brought to construction are truly great. In constructing a building the engineer could always—and did—add extra heavy girders to support the weight and take care of what has been called 'factors of safety' but are more nearly 'factors of ignorance.'"

In aviation no extra weight could be tolerated if the machines were to be light enough to have decent pay loads and hence economic value.

A major development with all-metal aircraft, pointed out by Dr. Millikan, has been the radical departure which makes the metal skin of the airplane actually support a considerable amount of the weight. This was impossible, naturally, when the old-fashioned fabric coverings of a few years ago.

Moreover, Dr. Millikan disclosed, the situation has now progressed one step further so that the wing surfaces, for example, are smooth in level normal flight but will actually buckle slightly during the momentary greater forces which are encountered in gusty and bumpy flying.

On a modern low wing transport plane the ripples where the surface is momentarily trying to buckle can sometimes actually be observed. As soon as the temporary large forces are removed the surfaces go back to their normal smoothness.

VOICE SORTER

How crystal filters sort out the hundreds of voice speeches traveling simultaneously over the new type coaxial telephone cables was described by Dr. O. E. Buckley, director of research for the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

The crystal filter was chosen as an example by Dr. Buckley to typify the blending of different research achievements of many men over many years into a single piece of telephone equipment.

Initial physical discovery in the development of crystal filters was the observation of the piezo-electric effect first noted by the brothers J. and P. Curie in 1880. They found that when certain crystals were compressed opposite electric charges appeared at each end. It was not until vacuum tube amplification came into being that a practical use could be found for the phenomenon.

Submarine detectors were developed during the World War by Prof. Langevin in France and A. M. Nicholson in America which were the first practical application. Prof. Walter G. Cady of Wesleyan University recognized the value of quartz crystals, with their piezo-electric effect, as a source of constant frequency. Most good radio stations today now use such crystal controls on their broadcasting transmitters.

Value of the crystals as sorters for myriads of telephone messages going over the same cable lies in the fact that by cutting the crystals to known dimensions and shapes they can be made separately sensitive to but a single frequency. Thus as many messages can be sent simultaneously as there are different frequencies going over the cable.

The crystal filter, which is a simple enough device, illustrates, said Dr. Buckley, the importance of "keeping at it" in industrial research and the importance, too, of co-operation between scientists.

Terminal City Has Elaborate Plans For Spending Borrowed Money But Comes to Government Asking Relief, Says George Murray of Lillooet; Favors Sales Tax

George M. Murray, Liberal, Lillooet, delivered a verbal castigation in the Legislature yesterday to the city of Vancouver for spending large sums on its jubilee, borrowing $1,000,000 for a new city hall, discussing a $2,000,000 playground, and building a $35,000 fountain with one hand, and then coming to the government with the other for financial assistance, while the mayor went about the country announcing the city was bankrupt.

"I, for one, will ask for a very close scrutiny of Vancouver's books and a careful accounting of its expenditures before voting any funds for the assistance of the city," he said.

"I tell you, this sort of thing doesn't add up with the hard-headed Scotsmen of Lillooet," he said. "A net result of Vancouver's jubilee was the impoverishment of every operator of a tourist hotel in the interior, because the country people were sure to Vancouver."

ADDING HUE TO RAINBOW

The construction of the illuminated fountain in Stanley Park was "as ridiculous as adding another hue to the rainbow," he said.

Discussing mining in the province, Mr. Murray said that stocks of many of the producing properties were selling below their true value because financial gymnastics in Alberta and talk about it here had unsettled credit.

SALES TAX

To finance public works, he urged the imposition of a sales tax, which, he said, was a popular levy in Washington state, and added that the entire taxation structure could be brought more in line with the neighboring states.

Mr. Murray, who followed Rev. Robert Connell in the debate, said the Opposition Leader's policies held no hope for the progressive young men of the province, and that Mr. Connell seemed fated to become "a specimen of political fossilization rather than a useful force in public life."

He brought word of much improved conditions in Lillooet riding, with relief cut to a point where those who needed assistance were only the ones that were incapable of doing a full day's work. Britannia Mine, working on skeleton shift three years ago, now had a staff of 1,000.

Something could be done to help the ranchers and farmers, however, in creating local markets for their goods, he said.

The government's road programme had been a very beneficial enterprise, he declared.

William H. Pratt Dies at Hilliers

Nanaimo, Oct. 30.—William Henry Pratt died at the family residence at Hilliers Wednesday. A native of London, England, he had been engaged in farming for sixteen years and had been a resident of the district for twenty-three years. His widow survives.

The remains were forwarded to Vancouver today for cremation.

From 25 to 100 carefully selected and blended components are contained in expensive perfumes.

Plan to Extend Apprenticeships

Youths Over Twenty-one Years Old to Come Under B.C. Act

Young men over twenty-one years of age will be able to become apprentices under the British Columbia Apprenticeship Act through an amendment to this measure introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor.

The act at present covers only boys from sixteen to twenty-one years old, but cases have been found of youths older than this limit who would like to learn trades under apprenticeship indentures, it was explained.

The title of the administrator of the act will be changed, under another amendment, from inspector to director of apprenticeship.

Mr. Pearson also introduced amendments to his male and female minimum wage legislation, mainly designed to assist in the enforcement of the labor regulations.

uniforms, or other services, and thus defeating the principle of the minimum wages.

A $50 minimum fine for impersonation of a labor department inspector is provided. The department, it was learned, on one occasion discovered a man who had falsely represented himself as an inspector and actually received some back wages on behalf of an employee, which he kept himself.

The act will also be amended so that the chairman of the Economic Council need not necessarily be a member of the minimum wage board.

ONLY 5 ENGINE STARTS IN 500 MILES OF DRIVING. This car is used in long trips across the country. There's little wear takes place here if the oil is tough enough to withstand high engine speed.

Why Dr. Smith's engine wears out faster than one that travels 3 times the distance

It's because Dr. Smith STARTS HIS ENGINE so often.

Automotive engineers now tell you that approximately three-fourths of all wear in an engine can occur during the starting period.

New Fast-Flowing Oil Checks Starting Wear

To cut down this starting wear you need an oil that is FAST-FLOWING. (This is fairly easy to make.)

But when your engine warms up, you need a different quality in your oil... it must be TOUGH, hold its body, resist breaking down into sludge, carbon. (This is fairly easy to make.)

The problem has been to get both of these qualities in one motor oil. At a cost of $3,000,000, Shell engineers have now produced such a lubricant. The new Golden Shell Motor Oil is FAST-FLOWING yet TOUGH.

No Insurance For Relief Men

Announcement from the provincial government that municipal relief workers did not come within the scope of health insurance legislation was received with surprise by the Oak Bay Council yesterday.

The council's interpretation of the act was that it was to include relief recipients and it was pointed out that no special proviso was made to exempt them.
To conform with this the municipal clerk had ordered extra forms from the government to be filled out by relief men, and it was this request that brought the reply that the legislation did not include those on relief.

Physics Future Is Predicted

Atomic Nuclei Study Results May Vie With X-Ray Discovery

By ROBERT D. POTTER
Science Service Staff Writer

New York, Oct. 30.—Listing the practical advances made possible by the physical discoveries of the X-ray, radioactivity and the electron in the recent past, Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, predicted here this afternoon that by the end of the twentieth century the still newer discoveries of research on atomic nuclei may yield comparable advances.

Dr. Compton spoke on "What's Ahead in Physics" at the dinner session of the five societies of physics meeting here to celebrate the formation five years ago of the American Institute of Physics.

"During the past third of a century," said Dr. Compton, "the discoveries of the electron, the X-ray and radioactivity have together brought about the greatest advances which have ever been made in the mental knowledge of the physical world and in practical applications of this knowledge to human welfare. These developments will undoubtedly continue. It may very well be that the new fields of knowledge disclosed through exploration of the atomic nucleus may bring about a new set of developments of corresponding importance before this century comes to a close. It is primarily in the groups represented by these five member societies of the American Institute of Physics that those things which are next in physics, some of which we can anticipate and some of which are certainly quite unknown to us, will come to pass."

In predicting the future one can only go on the achievements of the past and with a knowledge of present trends, pointed out Dr. Compton. Of the past he said:

"In the last fifty years physics has exerted a more powerful beneficial influence on the intellectual, economic and social life of the world than has been exerted in a comparable time by any other agency in history. Its influence has far exceeded that of wars, political alignments or social theories."

"This is a striking statement which, if true, discloses an equally striking absurdity for the public is continually excited about this or that issue of politics, tariffs, codes or international relationships which are of far less human import than the past and future accomplishments in that body of science whose American representatives are meeting here today, practically unknown and unnoticed."

As justification of this claim for the past usefulness of physics, Dr. Compton showed that all the many types of engineering, civil, mechanical, radio, motion picture, aeronautical, and on through the wide variety of known engineering species, all spring from the mother science of physics. Moreover, there are other scientists—astronomers, meteorologists, optometrists and others dealing with instruments—who basically are also physicists.

It is the contributions in five decades of all these men which bring glory to the science of physics and make its value outweigh war and politics in its effects on civilization.

Scientific research is needed on a national scale as much as on the smaller industrial scale, Dr. Compton declared, deploring the shortsightedness of research in the federal government agencies caused by lack of appropriations. He said:

"In spite of our judgment regarding the justification for large government expenditures to stimulate industry, I think that there would be agreement on the following principle by practically all scientists, engineers and progressive industrialists:

"In national, just as in industrial, expenditures, some substantial portion should be devoted to the attempt to improve the products, processes and methods of the future. Huge expenditures for construction and production only, with no provision for research and development aimed at better construction and new production in the future, are woefully short-sighted. Public and future industrial welfare require foundations for the future as well as production of the present."

Some of the most promising future developments in the usefulness of physics lie in the field of medicine, Dr. Compton suggested. Medical application of X-rays and radium rays have already aided the treatment of such diseases as cancer by radiation therapy. Neutrons, obtained in experiments on nuclear transformation, are now likewise found to have a differential effect on normal and malignant tissues. Moreover, artificial radioactive materials like radioactive sodium offer interesting possibilities for cancer treatment without dangerous after-effects.

Using high-frequency radiation to create artificial fever is another use of physics in medicine which is just now showing its value, declared Dr. Compton. There is some temperature above which no known organism can live. Recently it has been found that the organisms causing distemper in dogs than it is for the dogs themselves. Raising the temperature of the dogs above the lethal temperature for the distemper organisms frees the animal from the disease. In a similar way, Dr. Compton continued, the disease of syphilis has been cured in monkeys, although in man the two temperatures are so close together that it is risky to effect a possible cure by this method.

"Very recently, however," added Dr. Compton, "an improved technique has been developed which offers great promise for many applications and which consists of raising bodily temperature locally by means of electro-magnetically produced high frequency electric currents within the body in the region to be treated while the temperature of the body as a whole is kept within the safe limit by special cooling."

OPPORTUNITIES IN TEXTILE INDUSTRY

An almost virgin field of research exists for physicists entering the textile industry, declared Dr. E. R. Schwarz, associate professor of textile engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, at the industrial symposium.

The textile industry, he pointed out, has awakened in the last few

2 cups prunes 2 egg-whites
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped 1 cup whipped
nut meats cream
2 tablespoons powdered sugar
Soak prunes for several hours and simmer until soft in the water in which they were soaked. Cut in pieces and add sugar, chopped nuts, and vanilla. Beat vigorously. Fold in egg-whites beaten stiff. Pour mixture into baked pie shell made of delicate, digestible Crisco pastry (recipe follows). Bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) 30 minutes. When cool, decorate with slightly sweetened whipped cream.

Crisco's Digestible Pastry: Sift 1 1/2 cups flour with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cut in 1/2 cup unchilled Crisco (the all-vegetable shortening). When mixture looks mealy, add 4 to 6 tablespoons water, using as little as possible. Roll out on floured board. Fit pastry snugly in pie plate. Prick bottom. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 10-12 minutes.

Digestibility—that's the first reason why Crisco is the "one and only" shortening in millions of homes. For Crisco is the pure, light, all-vegetable shortening.

Crisco pastries are so meltingly tender and flaky they can't take long to digest. And when you fry with Crisco, your foods are crisp outside, greaseless inside, the way doctors say they should be.

But here are some other reasons why 11,000,000 women prefer Crisco! Crisco keeps sweet on your pantry shelf. It never smokes at proper frying temperature. And Crisco is ready-creamed. The electrical potentials were timed as they passed along the glass tubes with varying pressures of air present in the tubes. Velocities equal to nine-tenths the velocity of light were observed. Highest value obtained was 430,000,000,000 centimeters per second, which comes out to be about 167,000 miles an hour.

NEUTRONS FOR BIOLOGICAL EXPERIMENTS

A new chamber for measuring the intensity of neutron rays in biological experiments which will advance the possible treatment of cancer by these piercing, newly-discovered particle rays, was described before the meeting of the American Physical Society by one of America's best known medical physicists, Dr. G. F. Hall, chief physicist of Memorial Hospital, New York City.

Dr. Hall has turned the talents which made him a member of the international committee on measuring methods in X-ray and radium ray intensity to the newer problem of standardizing neutron research in so far as intensity measurements are concerned.

The intensity of neutron rays, like X-rays, must be determined by the ionization they produce in whatever materials they hit, pointed out the cancer hospital physicist. In biological experiments it is extremely important that the ionization be measured under the actual conditions in which the biological change being studied, is produced.

To attain this end, Dr. Hall has designed a chamber whose inner walls can be lined with the skin, bone, muscle or tumor which is being studied. The proper depth of tissue and even the contour of the living test object can be simulated.

Newest feat is to make a determination of the distribution of the ozone in the earth's atmosphere more than a mile above the 13.6 mile ceiling reached in the actual ascent.

It appears that at the stratosphere balloon ceiling at 22 kilometers (13.6 miles) there was a sharp concentration of ozone, and that at 24 kilometers (14.9 miles) the concentration fell to half its value at the 22-kilometer level.

Was Weak, Exhausted; Now Back to Work

Gains Rapidly in Vigor, Vitality and Brightness

Is your health on the skids? Have you felt yourself going steadily down hill all day? Wonder if the energy and vitality of earlier years is so constantly denied you? Then learn what PROSPERINE has done for others... and what it can do for you.

Here's one case—the case of Mr. Cole, of Abernethy, Mon. "My husband," writes Mrs. Cole, "was so weak and nerve exhausted he had to be piloted up and down stairs. I gave him PROSPERINE and he at once improved in every way. He is much brighter, has more vitality, is vigorous and cheerful, and so well that he has started to work again, and is going on splendidly."

Selected Issues Gain In Irregular Wall St. Session

New York, Oct. 30.—Favored stocks swung upward in today's market, some to new recovery peaks, but numerous others just about stood still or registered moderate declines.

One or two motors, utilities and an assortment of specialties accounted for the principal gains. Trends were rather erratic at the close. Transfers were around 1,700,000 shares.

The list boiled over on the buying side at the opening, but traders were not long in cashing in some of the profits that had piled up over the past several sessions.

The pace slowed as selling made its appearance and numerous early advances were reduced or cancelled.

Wall Street seemed cheered by the third quarter statement of Bethlehem Steel, the best, in seven years, and the steel group was well out in front for a while. Bids and offers on U.S. steel, preferred, ex-dividend, were wide at the start.

Earnings and dividend news was a supporting influence for the list as a whole.

Heavy Selling on Winnipeg Market

Winnipeg, Oct. 30.—Heavy selling from outside interests nullified on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today the constructive effect of large export sales of Canadian wheat. Prices closed 1 to 1 1/2 cents lower, October and November at $1.08 1/2, December $1.05 1/2 and May $1.06 1/2 to $1.06 3/4.

Today's foreign movement was placed at nearly 1,000,000 bushels. This support sent values more than a cent higher early but a steady flow of offerings attributed to Chicago resulted in a swift about-turn in late dealings.

Further good rains in the Argentine were a bearish factor in trade news. Liverpool closed unchanged to only 1/4 lower. Buenos Aires was 1/2 cent lower at noon.

Australian wheat shipments increased more than 500,000 bushels this week to 1,500,000 bushels. Argentina cleared 1,000,000 compared to last week's 1,270,000-bushel movement.

Cash grains spread firmed with good demand evidence for higher grades of wheat. Durums featured trading, up 1 1/4 cents. Coarse grains prices generally held steady in featureless trading.

Dollar Steady On N.Y. List

New York, Oct. 30.—Leading currencies followed mixed trend in terms of United States dollars today on the foreign exchange market.

Canadian currency gained 1-64 per cent to 100 1-16 cents, pounds sterling remained unchanged at $4.80, but French francs declined .00 1-16 cent at 4.65 cents.

BRITISH HINT TO COMINTERN

London, Oct. 30.—Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty, today issued a warning to the Moscow "Comintern" (Communist International organization) not to interfere with affairs in Great Britain.

"It is almost always disastrous to interfere in the affairs of other countries," Sir Samuel declared, addressing a west-end meeting.

"I commend that observation to agents of the Comintern. They will find that the more they interfere in the domestic affairs of this country, the worse it will react against their activities."

PREVENTING CHAOS

Sir Samuel's remark, carrying an official ring, followed the government's declaration in the House of Commons that non-intervention in Spain must be preserved to prevent chaos in Europe.

"On no account must we interfere in business which does not concern us," Sir Samuel added. "It is necessary to say that—and say it most clearly—in view of the very curious vacillating attitude adopted by the Labor Party towards the civil war in Spain."
